JAPANESE TO OFFER NEW NAVAL PLAN

Will Propose Limitation of Armaments on Global Tonnage Basis

FAVORS ELIMINATION OF OFFENSIVE SHIPS

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP).—Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, Japanese delegate to tri-power naval conversations here, said today that Japan will demand abolition of the ratio system of limiting naval armaments.

Instead, he revealed, the Island Empire will seek to substitute the global tonnage basis.

These proposals will be made to representatives of the United States and Great Britain in the course of talks scheduled to start here next week.

WOULD RENEW TREATIES
Yamamoto's announcement came soon after authoritative sources had disclosed that the Americans, Norman H. Davis and Rear-Admiral William H. Standley, will suggest substantial reduction in general naval armaments and renewal of the Washington and London naval treaties.

Under the terms of the Washington agreement, the United States and Great Britain are granted naval parity, with Japan permitted three-fifths of the armaments each has—the so-called 5-5-3 ratio.

FAVORS LIMITATION
"A suitable compromise plan for future limitation of navies would find Japan willing to enter," the admiral said. "An armaments race benefits no nation and no navy. We are determined to make every effort to forego a race, and I believe that if the three powers enter these discussions with open minds and a spirit of conciliation, there will be a satisfactory solution."

Admiral Yamamoto indicated that he will propose elimination or reduction of all offensive types of ships, making it clear that submarines, carriers and big battleships come under this classification.

However, he emphasized his belief that "the submarine is not an offensive weapon."

TRAIL IS LOST IN MOUNTAINS
Police Scour Switzerland Without Finding Trace of Revolutionary Leaders

PARIS, Oct. 17 (AP).—A "hot" trail of the two men named as leaders of the international bandit ring that staged the Marseille murders has apparently been lost in the Swiss Alps.

Police scouring Switzerland for Dr. Ante Pavelich and Gustave Perce, designated as their chiefs by three confessed members of the Croat revolutionary organization blamed for the slaying of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou of France, found no trace of them.

HELPED BY SYMPATHIZERS
As French diplomats, with the whole-hearted co-operation of Premier Mussolini of Italy, sought to forestall international friction growing out of the assassinations, authorities voiced the opinion that Pavelich and Perce might have been helped by sympathizers to gain some secure mountain hide-out.

Meanwhile, warrants for the arrest of Dr. Eugene Kvaternik, named as the "delegate" of the alleged terrorist leaders, and the mysterious "gun girl," supposed to have carried the assassins' arsenal to Marseille, were telegraphed to all European capitals.

Three confessed members of the gang—Milo Kral, Zvonimir Posedel and Ivan Rajlich—are under arrest.

Pressing Search For Abductor of Kentucky Woman

U.S. Government to Demand Death Penalty for Criminal—Mrs. Alice Stoll Says Wife of Kidnapper Saved Her Life—Is Withholding Her Statement on Events

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 27.—The death penalty for the kidnapping of Mrs. Alice Stoll was demanded today by the United States Government. Forces moved swiftly. Federal agents concentrated on their search for the man named as the mad kidnapper—Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., of Nashville.

Robinson's wife, Frances, and his father, Thomas Henry Robinson, Sr., of Nashville, were jointly charged with him.

Mrs. Robinson was arraigned here, late today, and sent to jail in default of $50,000 bond.

Mrs. Robinson, a woman in her early thirties, wore a morose expression, but at times she flared in anger.

WANTS DECENT ATTORNEY
"I only ask that I have a decent attorney," she cried at the commissioner, who asked if she had anything to say. "I have none and I demand one!"

"And another thing, I would like to get in touch with Mrs. Stoll right away—right away."

Mrs. Stoll told her family that the woman had befriended her in the Indianapolis apartment house where she had spent six days of captivity.

DOUKHOBORS SELL OUT ON PRAIRIES
Bids Called for Entire Holdings in Saskatchewan—Some May Come Into British Columbia

WINNIPEG, Oct. 17 (CP).—John McDougall, an adviser to Peter Verigin, president of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, Limited, tonight announced that the entire holdings of the corporation in Saskatchewan are up for sale.

Saying he was unable to announce future plans of the sect in Saskatchewan, Mr. McDougall said it had been definitely decided to liquidate the holdings there. Bids by tender are being called for, he said.

The Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood owns 36,000 acres of land in Saskatchewan, and has a membership of between 6,000 and 8,000 persons. It is believed here that many would remain on the land in Saskatchewan, while others might move to British Columbia, where the brotherhood owns 40,000 acres, which is not all being cultivated.

U.S. Bridge Team Reduces Lead of British Opponents

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The United States bridge team competing here for the Schwab Trophy, tonight experienced a turn in the tide of its fortunes and succeeded in reducing the lead established by the British opponents. At the end of 132 hands, the British team led by 6,110 points. At the end of play, tonight, after 180 hands, the American team had reduced the lead to 3,070 points, the scores being, England, 58,690 points, and America, 55,620.

REQUIEM FOR KING STARTS

Body Transferred From Palace to Cathedral—Funeral Today

BELGRADE, Oct. 18 (AP).—Six thousand five hundred persons have been arrested here during the last few days by police, who feared an attempt at assassinations during the funeral of King Alexander, it was learned today.

BELGRADE, Oct. 17 (AP).—Promptly at the stroke of midnight the body of the slain King Alexander was transferred from the throne room of the old palace to the National Cathedral, where it will remain overnight for today's great funeral.

The crowds during the evening had reached such proportions that thousands in the dark lines facing the route of transfer failed to catch even a glimpse of the dead sovereign.

A parish with 150 priests chanting Serbian ritual prayers and swinging brass censurers over the coffin began requiem services which are to last until sunrise.

HOMES OF ROYALTY
The funeral begins at 8 o'clock, with a final benediction by the patriarch, Albert Lebrun of France, and the other notables here.

For the slain king's last rites will be granted such protection as this nation never before has seen.

King Carol of Rumania, King Boris of Bulgaria, the Duke of Kent, President Albert Lebrun of France and the other notables here for the slain king's last rites will be granted such protection as this nation never before has seen.

One double line of soldiers will stand facing the funeral procession, while another double line will face spectators. Plain clothes detectives will mingle with the crowd, and no one in the vast assemblage will be permitted to carry a parcel or camera.

Soldier Drowned In Pot of Beans

MATANZAS, Cuba, Oct. 17 (AP).—A soldier drowned himself accidentally in a pot of beans today. He was stationed at the rifle range and had to do his own cooking. As he leaned over to pick up a pot of beans he had put in water to soak, he fell forward and jammed his head so tightly into the pot he couldn't remove it.

RECIPROCITY WILL BE MAJOR LIBERAL PLANK

MONTREAL, Oct. 17 (CP).—Reciprocity with the United States, beaten in 1911, its provision in Budget repudiated again in 1930, will again be a major Liberal plank in the forthcoming election, it was learned today.

Richardson and Alex. were convicted and sentenced to hang on October 28. A fourth brother, Joseph, is scheduled to appear later this month to face the same murder charge.

Acts of Constables Before Their Slaying Vigorously Defended

Attorney-General Opens Crown's Reply to Appeal of Indians Convicted of Murder—Not "Playing Tag" When Gun Drawn

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17 (CP).—Conduct of Dominion Indian Constable F. H. Gisborne and Provincial Constable Percy Carr was vigorously defended today by Attorney-General Gordon Sloan, in opening the Crown's reply to the appeal of three Indian brothers convicted of slaying Gisborne.

The two officers were slain near the Canford Reserve, Merritt, May 23, when they went to arrest Eneas George on a charge of stabbing his wife. Eneas and his brothers, Richardson and Alex. were convicted and sentenced to hang on October 28. A fourth brother, Joseph, is scheduled to appear later this month to face the same murder charge.

Earth Quivers When Weather Plays Odd Pranks in California

Hundreds Flee From Homes Flooded by Rain, Snow and Hail

WATERSPOUT WHIRLS IN FROM THE SEA

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17 (AP).—More than 500 persons fled their flooded homes, and two children were reported missing, tonight, in a freakish play of weather, accompanied by an earthquake in the Southern California area.

Rainfall ranged in Los Angeles County from a few hundredths of an inch to more than four inches, with snow and hail in the mountains.

A waterspout whirled in from the sea, off Long Beach, and dissolved as it neared the shore line.

MINIATURE TORNADO
A miniature tornado swept through the business district of Inglewood, smashing glass windows in four business houses.

Heavy winds and pounding seas swept the two-storey home of Elmer Cain into the ocean at West Newport Beach.

Rain piled up flood waters in the North State street area of Long Beach, which had a precipitation of 4.5 inches, driving upwards of 500 persons from their homes. Twenty-five families in the Montrose district fled their homes and were being cared for by police and the Red Cross in Glendale.

Marguerite Clark, nine, had not returned home from school, in Montrose, and her parents expressed fear that she might have been drowned.

Donald Butterworth, seven, Los Angeles, was reported missing by his mother.

BEDAUX HOPES TO TRY AGAIN

Disease Kills Thirty Horses Forcing Party to Abandon Long Trek

HUDSON HOPE, B.C., Oct. 17 (CP).—Notwithstanding rugged mountainous country and persistent bad weather, it remained for "hoof rot" to repel the rather unorthodox challenge of the Charles E. Bedaux expedition to blaze a new path across the Rocky Mountains in the wilds of Northern British Columbia.

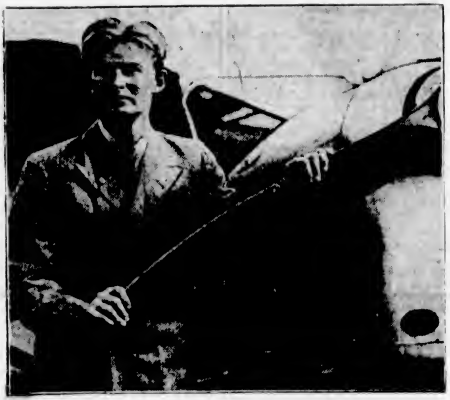

The expedition is expected to return here within the next day or two, after having reached within fifteen days of their goal, Telegraph Creek. Varied and repeated obstacles had been overcome by the party which set out from Port St. John early in July, equipped with both tractors and horses, but about September 25 "hoof rot" attacked the horses and within three days thirty had been lost.

FORCED TO RETURN

Without sufficient means of transportation nor the food supply, the expedition was forced to return from Bifton Pass. Mr. Bedaux's own message received here today by an advance runner, however, indicated that the trip had been unique and was justified if only by its "fascinating" experiences.

"We hope," the Bedaux message said, "to tackle this same undertaking next year and go through with it."

U.S. Government Testing Validity Of Its Own Act

Bringing Case to Supreme Court Seeking to Support Law Suspending Gold Payments—Holders of Bonds of Bankrupt Railway Demanding Gold or Equivalent in Currency

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP).—Emphasizing that billions of dollars, and "perhaps even the financial stability of the National Government," are involved in the question of the validity of the act suspending gold payments, the United States sought today to support this law by bringing to the Supreme Court a case now pending in the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals, without waiting for that court to act on it.

The case arose out of the gold clause in bonds issued by the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway, which is now in the hands of receivers. Some of the holders are demanding payment in gold or its equivalent in currency.

The Government emphasized that the matter was a serious one, since, should the gold clause be sustained, debtors would have to pay $1.69 in present lawful money for each $1 borrowed.

This would arise from the fact that every dollar at present is backed by only 59.06 as much gold as before the devaluation.

ADDED SIGNIFICANCE
Of added significance in the present case is the fact that the Reconstruction Corporation advanced $23,134,800 to the railroad, taking, as security, bonds subordinate to the gold mortgage bonds, holders of which are demanding payment in gold.

The Federal District Court at St. Louis sustained the act suspending gold payments, declaring it was impossible in fact and in law to make such payments.

Saved After Eight Days On Wreckage

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 17 (AP).—Four members of the crew of the chartered yacht Least Petrel were aboard the coast guard cutter Perseus tonight bound for San Diego, after being marooned eight days on the wreckage of their vessel at Black Point, Mexico, 285 miles south of here.

Dispatches carried no details of the accident which sent the Least Petrel on the rocks.

The Least Petrel was a total loss. It was owned by Griffin Bancroft, wealthy San Diegan.

At one point Mr. Justice Murphy threatened to clear the court when questions and answers during defence counsel's cross-examination of Provincial Police Corporal Paul Corrigan brought titters of amusement from the audience.

The Crown expects to complete its case tomorrow with the calling of the warden of Oakalla Jail.

IN NEW YORK ON THE DATE OF KIDNAPPING

Two Witnesses Account for Hauptmann's Doings Until 5 o'Clock

HEARING TAKEN TO APPELLATE COURT

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP).—The Daily News says tonight that a boss carpenter and an employment agent have definitely placed Bruno Richard Hauptmann in New York City from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., on March 1, 1932, the date of the Lindbergh baby's kidnapping.

The first-born son of the famous flyer was abducted that night from the Lindbergh home at nearby Hopewell, N.J.

E. V. C. Pesela, head of an employment agency, told The News that he sent Hauptmann on February 2, 1932, to the Majestic Apartments here, where a carpenter was wanted.

HIRED FOR WORK
Joseph M. Furchi, construction superintendent at the apartment hotel, was quoted by the newspaper as saying Hauptmann was hired to begin work the following Tuesday, March 1.

Testifying in the hearing on his habeas corpus writ against extradition to New Jersey, Hauptmann said he either worked at the Majestic Apartments on the day of the abduction or waited at an employment agency to get a job.

Both Furchi's records, and those at the agency, The News said, showed Hauptmann had worked at the apartment building until 5 p.m., at least three hours before the abduction.

IN APPELLATE COURT
NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP).—Bruno Hauptmann carried to the Appellate Court today his fight to avoid extradition to New Jersey for trial on the charge of murdering the Lindbergh baby.

With New Jersey seeking a swift denunciation of the sensational kidnap-killing, further factors of delay loomed with the declaration of Defence Attorney James M. Fawcett.

"It is very likely that if we are unsuccessful in preventing extradition by this effort, we will carry our case further."

On Fawcett's petition, Presiding Justice Edward R. Finch, of the appellate division, set 2 p.m. Friday for a hearing of the appeal.

SCORES TARIFF MANIPULATION

U.S. Secretary of State Accuses Unnamed Nations of Indefensible Practice

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP).—Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, lashed out, today, at unnamed nations indulging in the "indefensible practice" of raising their tariff barriers just before entering international negotiations to lower them.

Bringing the case down to the network of reciprocal trade agreements now being framed by the United States, Hull asserted that such seeking of bargaining advantages would imperil any negotiations.

Hull termed the practice equivalent to "padding the price" of an article and then cutting it to make a sale. It would result, he said, only in harm to world trade and the probable failure of any negotiations.

UNNAMED OFFENDERS
Undersecretary William Phillips, in making Hull's statement public, likewise refused to name the offenders. More than usual significance immediately was attached to a speech in Chicago, tonight, by George N. Peek, special foreign trade adviser to President Roosevelt.

Before a group of business men, Peek explained some of the trade restrictions being faced by the United States. He said he possessed a record of 180 "exclusive commercial agreements and barter transactions."

A state bank examiner who was at work in the institution when the robbery occurred, was forced to carry a bag with the money, when the robbers ordered a group of employees and customers to accompany them outside.

Mayor Jack Battle, a bank customer, A. F. Jurgenson, of Alliance, another state bank examiner, and six other persons were forced to get on the running board of the robbers' car.

Draft Scheme for Marketing Poultry And Eggs Approved

Comprehensive Plan Prepared for Control of Selling in Three Prairie Provinces—Yet Requires Approval of Federal Cabinet

OTTAWA, Oct. 17 (CP).—Approval of the draft of a scheme for the marketing of poultry and eggs in the three prairie provinces, under the Natural Products Marketing Act, has been given by the Dominion Marketing Board, but it has not yet been submitted to the Cabinet for final approval.

Providing for the licensing of all poultry producers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and the licensing of all retail and urban retail merchants as well as wholesalers, the scheme would be operated by local provincial organizations already in existence bound together in the organization of the present

Canadian Poultry Pool, the name of which would be changed to "Canadian Poultry Sales, Limited," with a Dominion charter.

The poultry co-operative would act as assembling agents. Sales would be on a pool basis. It is proposed to utilize the present wholesale and retail organizations in order to avoid disturbance through the creation of new agencies.

NOW BEING ARRANGED

Meetings of producers are now being organized in Western Canada, and before the scheme comes into effect it is proposed to get the approval of a majority of the producers.

In Alberta, the local board at first would consist of ten members drawn from existing poultry organizations and named by the Minister of Agriculture for Alberta. Later they would be elected by the registered producers. Within their provinces the local boards would control the product up to the point of having it assembled and ready for sale or shipment, when it would be taken over by the larger unit, Canadian Poultry Sales, Limited. This body would consist of the nominees of the local boards, subject to the approval of the Dominion Marketing Board.

Extensive plans for improving the quality of poultry products are involved in the scheme. It is proposed to encourage a measure of standardization of breeding in various localities, to control and standardize hatcheries, and to assist in the development, supply and distribution of standardized foodstuffs of proven value for maintaining a quality product.

Assembling plants and service stations would be established at strategic locations throughout the prairie wherever necessary, and by securing a large tonnage in this way it is expected a saving can be made in the transportation costs by rail. Provision of refrigerator service over all lines has been assured by the railways, and the organization proposes to use railway facilities in preference to other methods of transportation.

Once the plan is in operation the industry is expected to carry itself and be no charge on the public funds. For initial organization expense Government funds may be used, but it is estimated not more than $5,000 will be required in each province.

Pooling of the products will require initial advances to the producer and credits will be obtained from the banks for this purpose. All the assets of the existing organizations will be at the disposal of the local boards and Canadian Poultry Sales, Limited.

THOUSAND SEE FATAL LANDING

One Man Drowned When Movie Plane Crashes at Sea—Five Rescued

By VALENTINE WILLIAMS
A crowd of thousands gathered on the decks of the Washington, today, watched in agonies of suspense the thrilling rescue of five of six members of a seaplane that crashed and sank beside the ship. The sixth man, Mechanic Henry Johnson, Brooklyn, N.Y., perished, his flying suit dragging him down. The tragedy, which occurred this morning, 325 miles off Nantucket, climaxed an exciting race between Fox Movietone and Paramount Newsreel to show films of the Marcella assassination which the representatives were bringing to the United States.

The Fox plane, piloted by Marion Gravenberg, was the first to arrive. It was sighted at 7:15 a.m.

ATTEMPTS TO LAND
Capt. George Fried, went very slowly, trailing a towline with bag containing the film, which the plane was to grapple. The plane's grapple, however, was carried away, whereupon the pilot attempted to land on the water about 300 yards from the ship.

The aircraft's right pontoon crashed, and it immediately started to sink. There was a heavy swell and the 1,000 eye-witnesses suffered agonies watching the six tiny figures sliding about the rapidly-submerging wreckage, while the ship's boat, under Chief Officer Ralph Dooley, labored through rough seas to the scene.

The five survivors boarded the ship unscathed.

mother. Two unidentified men had told police they had seen a boy fall into a storm drain near the Butterworth home. The officers made a search but could find no trace of the boy.

Coast guard cutters pulled a small fishing boat out of the breakers at Point Firmin; a motorboat, belonging to B. H. Hitt, from the heavy seas off Huntington Beach, and towed the fishing boat Dorothy II from the breakwater into the harbor when they found the craft drifting without fuel.

A 165-foot fishing barge, belonging to C. K. Morrison, pounded by heavy waves, sank off Huntington Beach. It had been out of use for several weeks.

The earthquake did no damage. It was felt in Long Beach, Huntington Park, Del., Maywood, Lynwood, Inglewood, San Pedro, Redondo Beach, Hermosa Beach, Manhattan Beach, El Segundo and Venice. Fifty of the persons who were driven from their homes in Long Beach were being cared for at the state armory. The others were quarantined with friends or relatives. Police had rescued numbers of them with boats.

STREETS FLOODED

Rainfall in Los Angeles reached 1.68 inches. Many of the downtown streets were flooded and stalled automobiles jammed traffic. Flood waters drove members of the Rossi family from their combined grocery store and home on Honolulu Avenue in the La Cresenta area, which experienced the heaviest casualties in the flood of last New Year's Eve, when more than forty lives were lost. They were swept down a wash, but nearby residents heard their cries and rescued them. They were Mr. and Mrs. John Rossi and their four daughters, Mary, fourteen; Josephine, thirteen; Jenny, eight; and Edith, five. All were treated for cuts and bruises. In the same district sheriff's deputies rescued Ed Sparks, in bed with a broken leg in his flooded home.

WILL ABOLISH IMPORT QUOTAS

France's Decision to Raise Tariff Barriers Confirmed—Ottawa Not Alarmed

PARIS, Oct. 17 (AP).—France's decision to abolish import quotas and raise her tariff barriers, officially confirmed today by the Minister of Commerce, was explained by tariff experts as having a double purpose.

The quota system has been almost universally criticized, and the Government has admitted it gave bad results. The Government maintains that when the quotas are dropped, at least temporary protection is needed until trade treaties can be formulated to safeguard industry.

The new tariffs, it was said, will be intentionally high, both for protection, and according to the customs committee of the Chamber of Commerce, possibly for bargaining purposes.

WILL HAVE LITTLE EFFECT
OTTAWA, Oct. 17 (CP).—Inauguration of a new French trade policy of higher tariffs, instead of quotas, is not expected to affect greatly the operation of the trade treaty between that country and Canada, foreign trade experts of the Dominion Government said today.

ACTS OF CONSTABLES STRONGLY DEFENDED

"I would be very sorry to hear any court in the Empire say that a policeman under these circumstances would not be justified in shooting," Mr. Sloan said.

Two important issues were involved, Mr. Sloan stated in opening the Crown's reply. One, the lives of the three accused, and the other the question affecting the administration of justice throughout the whole of Canada. He referred to the question of whether Section 40 of the Criminal Code required a police officer, when making an arrest, to notify an accused of the charge.

EVENTS OUTLINED

Briefly outlining events leading up to the fatal fight, Mr. Sloan explained that Eneas' wife had been taken to Merritt to be treated for a stab allegedly inflicted by her husband. "I fail to see why the police should not have gone out at night and arrested Eneas," counsel said. "They would have been remiss in their duty if they had not, bearing in mind that Eneas was a potential murderer. Fail to see why they should not flash their flashlights on them. Nor why that could be argued as provocation."

"I think it was very unfortunate and precipitated by very bad judgment," Mr. Justice McPhillips said. "Why could it be done in the dead of night. It seems to me the authorities were courting disaster. Indians don't run away."

"I take the opposite view," replied Mr. Sloan. "The officers would have been remiss in their duty if they hadn't gone out when this woman was in danger of dying."

As to Indians not running away, the Attorney-General remarked that there was the Gun-A-Noot case, and it took ten years to get him.

"My friend knows about it," he added, turning to Stuart Henderson, veteran Victoria criminal lawyer, who is senior defence counsel.

Mr. Henderson defended Gun-A-Noot, who was acquitted of a charge of murder after wandering for years in Northern British Columbia.

Dealing with the evidence, Mr. Sloan argued that there was plenty of evidence to justify the jury coming to their verdict and the court should not intervene.

Mr. Justice McPhillips reiterated that the officers should have "met force with force."

"What would you do if Indians were chasing you down a country road at night with a club?" queried Mr. Sloan. "Would you consider the niceties of the situation or would you draw your gun and try to save your life? Do you think they were playing tag?"

Mr. Justice Archer Martin requested that Mr. Sloan be prepared to clear up evidence which indicated that before any fighting ensued Osborne told Carr that they would arrest the four Indians.

Mr. Henderson's application to introduce new evidence stands until the main appeal has been argued.

Canada is now the chief producer of radium for the British Empire, and may, if all goes well, replace the Belgian Congo as world's greatest producer. Already the radium mines in Great Bear Lake have broken the monopoly held by the Belgian mine. ## PRESSING SEARCH FOR KIDNAPPER

"That woman saved my life," Rev. E. Arnold Clegg, Indianapolis pastor, who helped her to her home, quoted Mrs. Stoll as saying.

KEEPS HER PLEDGE

Mrs. Stoll, guarded all her life by her parents; Mr. and Mrs. William Shalcross Speed, one of the wealthiest families in the state, pledged her abductor she would not tell for twenty-four hours of anything that might hamper his flight. She did not say the promise was exacted. But she told her husband, Berry V. Stoll, she intended to keep it. She kept this pledge, Stoll said today.

That promise was only for twenty-four hours. It was expected her next move would be to tell the Department of Justice men everything she could that would lead them on the right trail for the former asylum inmate.

WANTS TO SURPRISE

"I don't want her to talk until she goes on the stand," Harold Nathan, head of the Government investigators, said today. "We want her testimony a surprise for the defence."

Nathan never admitted any chance that there would not be a trial—that the kidnapper could not be caught. Robinson was believed to have fled Indianapolis yesterday, after what Nathan termed "some sort of disagreement" with his wife. Orders were issued for a copy of the warrant to be sent to Nashville for service on the elder Robinson.

There had been numerous reports from Nashville that the father had aided the Government in its efforts to find the son. These, coupled with the solicitude shown by the Stoll family for Mrs. Robinson, made it appear at times that they might not have to face criminal warrants. They were issued, however, shortly after Nathan had told a press conference that neither had ever helped his men. "We have made no deal," he emphasized, referring to them.

INTERCEDES FOR WOMAN
George Stoll, brother of Berry, and George's wife, today went to Harold Nathan, in charge of Department of Justice men in this area, and asked that Mrs. Robinson be made as comfortable as possible.

Mrs. Stoll, whose release came after payment of $50,000 ransom, spent the day resting at home and was reported recuperating.

In Washington, the Department of Justice records showed the Stoll case to be the thirty-second investigation of it since passage of the Lindbergh Law in 1932, after the murderous kidnapping of Colonel Charles Lindbergh's first son. Seventy-four persons have been convicted in that time. Arrests have been made in every important case (see records show, except in the stealing of little June Robin from her Tucson, Arizona, home. She was returned.

REPORT DISSIPATED
CANTON, Ill., Oct. 17 (AP).—Another report that Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., sought in the kidnapping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, Louisville, had been sighted was dissipated tonight after authorities talked with Kentucky authorities and decided that a man seen here did not meet the description of the fugitive.

Deputy Sheriff Ben Harter checked with Louisville authorities.

ALLOWING THREE DAYS FOR FLIGHT

Kingsford-Smith Expects to Land in California Tuesday—To Make Three Hops

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17 (AP).—Arthur H. O'Connor, of the Australian Press Bureau, announced here, today, he had been informed that Wing-Commander Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith would take off from Brisbane on a trans-Pacific flight, Saturday, and expected to land in California Tuesday.

O'Connor said Kingsford-Smith, who made the westward Pacific flight in his famed Southern Cross several years ago, would make the eighth in three hops, to Suva, Fiji, to Honolulu and to either San Francisco or Los Angeles.

His co-pilot will be Captain P. G. Taylor and they will fly in the Lady Southern Cross, a Lockheed-Altair. The hop is approximately 7,000 miles and takes nineteen days by boat.

"So Edith has caught that young fellow who rescued her while skating. He seemed awfully shy."

"Yes, she had to break the ice."

ARGUES CLAIM FOR PROVINCE

Alberta Counsel Criticizes Dominion Government for Land Sales Policy

OTTAWA, Oct. 17 (CP).—The Dominion Government was criticized today for disposing of Alberta farm lands, either by giving them away to settlers or selling at $3.00 per acre, when as much as $25 per acre was being realized on similar areas. M. M. Porter, K.C., counsel for Alberta, appearing before the Natural Resources Commission, was arguing the claim of that province for compensation for alienation by the Dominion Government of 25,000,000 acres of Western land.

Mr. Porter quoted extensively from sales records between 1908 and 1930 to support his claim that the lands could have been profitably disposed of.

MAPS AS EXHIBITS

A number of maps were filed in an attempt to show that lands situated in closely-occupied areas, with land prices of from $6 to $25 prevailing, were, by the Act of 1908, either given away for nothing as homesteads, or sold at $3.00 per acre as purchased homesteads or pre-emption.

Mr. Justice Dymally, chairman, said humorously: "I suppose if the land had been sold at $15 per acre the Dominion Government could have paid for the Hudson Bay Railway out of the proceeds?"

Mr. Porter said that it was the contention of the province that a local Government would have been more careful about the disposition of such valuable farm lands.

Doukhobor Killed By Runaway Log

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 17 (CP).—W. Obetkoff, Doukhobor, aged thirty-five, died in the Trail Tadanac Hospital, as the result of a fractured skull, suffered when he was struck by a log coming off a chute where logging operations are being carried on by W. Marsoff, about a mile and a half out on the Fruitvale Road. His home was in Brilliant.

Fined for Having No Radio Licence

MONTREAL, Oct. 17 (CP).—Charged with failure to obtain a $3 Dominion radio licence, ten persons pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs, or eight days in jail, in police court today.

Three Garnishee Defendant Companies Cease to Contest Court Proceedings

SEATTLE, Oct. 17 (AP).—Three garnishee defendants to the Federal Government's $17,250,000 civil suit against Henry and George Reifel, Canadian distillers, for unpaid revenue duties and the value of liquor the Government says was sold illegally, withdrew their appearance today in the Federal court of Judge Jeremiah Neider.

Sam E. Whitaker, special assistant United States attorney-general, said he will ask for default judgment against the corporations which withdrew.

PROTECTION LAID ASIDE

King Alexander Might Have Saved Life With Bullet-Proof Vest

(Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press)

BELGRADE, Oct. 17.—King Alexander of Yugoslavia lost his life because he did not wear his bullet-proof vest.

The king, assassinated last week in Marseille, owned two bullet-proof vests. He had intended to wear one of them in France as he had done a month before on a visit to Bulgaria.

But when he went ashore from the cruiser Dubrovnik at Marseille, an admiral's uniform was his garb. The Associated Press learned today he put on the bullet-proof vest, then found the admiral's uniform-tunic would not fit properly over the coat of mail.

He removed the vest at the last moment and went ashore with a perfectly-fitting uniform but without the protection he had planned.

Experts said had he worn his vest he would have lived, since none of the bullets hit him in the head. The king rejected the idea of such protection, but gave in to those who insisted he should have one.

SCHOOL BOARD FINANCES GOOD

Saanich Trustees Think Small Surplus Possible on Year's Levy

Saanich School Board will probably finish the year with a small surplus, members felt last night after perusing the statement of receipts and expenditures up to September 30. The board budgeted an estimate of $123,518, and to date have spent $90,942.

Every item is within the estimate, and the chairman of the finance committee, Walter P. Jeune, thought the year would end "all square."

Additional grants of $2,500 had been received from the Provincial Government, and $500 had been paid into the board treasury by three parent-teacher associations in the municipality. To offset this, work on grounds had received more than $1,250 of the supplementary estimate, leaving a credit balance of $1,740.

Transportation was a big item in the statement, $3,321 having been spent already out of an estimate of $3,850. It is expected some $1,490 will be needed to care for transportation costs to the end of the year. This contingency was caused mainly by the McKenzie Avenue School fire.

The statement of finances on the new McKenzie Avenue School was not made public.

B.C. LOG SCALE HAS INCREASED

Approximately 1,500,000-000 Board-Foot Is Output for Nine Months

Increase of 30 per cent in the provincial log scale for nine months this year was recorded yesterday by the British Columbia Forest Branch for the period January to September, inclusive. The total scale was 1,498,074,338 board feet, not including 3,097,969 lineal feet of poles, 112,668 cords of firewood, and 936,839 pieces of hewn ties additional.

The scale for the same period last year was 1,153,846,959 board feet.

The official scale for September was 200,680,547 board feet, compared with 205,982,174 board feet in August.

Notable in the figures was the increase of the production by more than 100 per cent, the output for nine months this year was 98,699 pieces, compared with 438,821 pieces at a similar date last year. Pole-cutting was about the same as in last season, but cordwood was considerably less.

LARGE LEGACIES LEFT CHURCHES

Two Calgary Institutions to Receive $125,000 Each Under Terms of Bequest

CALGARY, Oct. 17 (CP).—Officers of the Salvation Army and the Church of the Redeemer, the Anglican Pro-Cathedral, got a welcome surprise when official word of the legacy left them by Eleanor Tompkins, was received here. It was made known today that each organization will receive $125,000 and not $25,000 as first reported in press dispatches from the Old Country. The bequests were stated in English pounds and not dollars as first understood.

Pioneers in church and charitable work, Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins lived in Calgary for many years.

TO RECEIVE MEDAL FOR GOOD CITIZENSHIP

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 17 (CP).—By unanimous selection, Judge P. W. Howay will receive the good citizenship medal at a public banquet to be given here, Monday evening, November 19, by Post No. 4, Native Sons of British Columbia. The date also marks the annual observance of Douglas Day.

Committee to See Automatic Signals For Traffic Work

A SPECIAL meeting of the public works committee of the City Council will be held Friday afternoon, at that members of the council may see a demonstration of automatic stop-and-go signals a manufacturing firm is offering to install for trial in Victoria.

If it is found that the signals are beneficial to the directing of traffic in the downtown area, the council will then consider the question of installing them permanently.

REGULATION ON AGE MODIFIED

Saanich Students, Eighteen Since Sept. 4, Allowed to Return to School

A modified policy on its recent action in barring Saanich High School students over eighteen years from school was adopted last night by the Saanich School Board.

Students who have reached the age of eighteen since the date of registration on September 4 will be allowed to continue for the current year. The board's action includes all grades as well as matriculation. Trustee Albert E. Hull moved the resolution and Trustee William Tomes was the seconder.

Since the board took its first action in expelling students of eighteen years, in accordance with the 1934 Educational Bill, passed at the last session of the Legislature, ratepayers have attended the meetings requesting that modification be made. The delegations have felt that it was doing an injustice to the students, particularly those in matriculation, who would be forced to leave school because of an age limit.

STUDENTS TO RETURN

Scholars who have been forced to leave school since the board's primary action on August 22 will be allowed to return to school. Those students at present in the school whose eighteenth birthday falls before next June will also be allowed to remain in Saanich High Schools. It was pointed out, however, that no student who has passed the age of eighteen will be accepted after the current school year, and those scholars who became eighteen during the summer vacation will not be allowed to return to school.

Y.M.C.A. Tag Is To Be Conducted Here, Saturday

The annual tag day in aid of the Y.M.C.A. will be conducted here on Saturday, with members of the boys' work committee of the local association in charge.

Last season this department of the Y.M.C.A. activity had 532 members, which means its influence was felt among a number well into four figures. The work of the Y.M.C.A. here is not confined to its actual membership, but extends to all those who come in contact with Y.M.C.A. boys.

All this activity costs money, and so, on Saturday, the committee is appealing, on behalf of the whole Y.M.C.A., to the generosity of Victoria citizens.

LAST RITES CONDUCTED

Many sorrowing friends attended the funeral services yesterday morning for Florence M. Crompton, wife of Major J. A. P. Crompton, who passed away at the family home, 448 Glenora street, Monday. Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father A. B. Wood in the church of Our Lady Queen of Peace, and the remains were laid at rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

The funeral was officiated by Rev. Father H. Burks, Major Mulcahy, A. Cran and Thomas Hadfield.

Kidneys Cause Much Trouble Says Doctor

Doctor's Prescription Heals and Cleans Sick Kidneys—Removes Acids—Works in 15 Minutes

Dr. C. Z. Rendell, well-known Physician and Medical Examiner, of San Francisco, says: "Sinner the Kidneys purify the blood, the poisons collect in these organs and must be promptly flushed from the system otherwise they re-enter the blood stream and create a toxic condition."

Your blood circulates four times a minute through nine million tiny, delicate tubes in your kidneys which are endangered by drastic, irritating drugs, modern foods and drinks, worry and exposure. Badly diseased kidneys cause Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Neuritis, Headaches, and a general run-down condition. I am of the opinion that the prescription I have devised for cleansing the kidneys is the best in the world. It cleanses the kidneys in a few hours. It starts work in fifteen minutes. Gently cleans, soothes and drains the kidneys. Brings new health, youth and vitality in 48 hours. It has helped thousands of sufferers, and must help you. If you suffer from kidney and bladder trouble, delay endangers your life and you should not lose a single minute in starting to take the doctor's special Kidney prescription called Crates (pronounced "Crates").

Crates cleanses each organ of the urinary tract, and in freeing the blood of retained toxins, Crates deserves the endorsement of all doctors. If you suffer from kidney and bladder trouble, delay endangers your life and you should not lose a single minute in starting to take the doctor's special Kidney prescription called Crates (pronounced "Crates"). ## IN DISPUTE OVER BRIDGE

Culbertson Charged With Attempting to Dictate Rules

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP).—A full-fledged international row over bridge was under way tonight as Ely Culbertson, captain of the United States team trailing Britain in Schwab Cup play, lashed out sharply at critics of his asserted "dictatorship" in the tournament.

With the Americans trailing 3,370 points at the end of 150 hands, Culbertson declared "unqualifiedly false" the story "that I arbitrarily changed the rules of the play of this match."

The assertion was credited to Lieut.-Col. W. Butler and Capt. Ewart Kemson, British experts who write bridge for newspapers, and who were members of the English selection committee. They charged that Culbertson attempted to set himself up as "dictator-in-chief" of the Schwab journey.

TRADES ALL TRADITION

The Britons charged further that Culbertson had traduced all English tradition in being instrumental in barring spectators, other than the working press, from the playing rooms. Through the newspaper articles, they announced they henceforth would absent themselves from Schwab play.

Culbertson's peppy reply did not dissuade them from making use of argument ad hominem. "I admire them very much in private life," he said of his adversaries, "but as bridge experts they had the chance to play against us and were brutally eliminated, running eleventh in a field of sixteen teams."

BEING BADLY BEATEN

"I myself have seen several of their atrocious bids and plays, which probably accounts for the pots they've taken at the Americans as a team when we are being so badly beaten by the splendid play of the English team."

The American captain declared "both sides are playing strictly in accordance with the published agreement signed at the previous match between the captains of the English and American teams, with the approval of the Schwab committee."

TO MAKE TEST FLIGHTS SOON

Wind Has Velocity of 100 Miles an Hour During Antarctic Hurricane

By LINCOLN ELLSWORTH, Leader, Ellsworth Trans-Antarctic Flight Expedition.

(Copyright, 1934, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

DECEPTION ISLAND, Antarctica, Oct. 17.—The blizzard, which rendered the Wyatt Earp's entrance to Deception Harbor so hazardous, raged unabated until midnight.

Then, after a few minutes dead calm, the wind's direction swung from north to south, and it blew again with hurricane force. The ship swung sharply to the anchor and was hardly steamed into the wind when some fast bay ice, which had drifted into the harbor, bore down upon us. Rearing on the tauntingly-strung anchor chain and grinding along the stout sides of the ship, it looked for a while as if it would shove us high and dry on the shore, but the anchor held and the ice packed tight about us. The snow and sleet still piled down upon our decks.

By 8 a.m. the wind veered more to the southeast and increased in force. The anchor chain swung like a tight-drawn middle string. Low clouds swept about the mountains, which rise to nearly 3,000 feet, just behind us and up the mountain slopes whirled and wreathed columns of granular snow hardened by the temperature, which has dropped to below zero Centigrade.

SUNSHINE AFTER STORM

Under pressure of the wind, the ice about the ship packed tighter and tighter. The wind force soon cleared the sky of clouds, and the sun burst forth.

Shortly after breakfast there was, on the part of the crew, an eager rush for skis and snowshoes and, dropping over the stern of the ship, which was within a few yards of the beach, many of the men made their way over the tightly-packed ice to shore.

With Dr. Holmboe, the meteorologist of the expedition, I essayed to climb the mountain peak and hoped to catch a glimpse of Graham Land far in the southern distance, but before we reached the summit we found the wind too strong to permit further progress. It literally blew us off our feet and we had to cling to each other for support.

Dr. Holmboe's estimate of the force of the wind was over a hundred miles an hour. Graham Land was obscured by clouds, so we retraced our steps to the whaling station and explored its ramifications. It is in a sorry mess. Some sheds are roofless, other roofs, unable to bear the weight of the snow that had drifted upon them, have been borne by the weight to the ground and twisted, as they are, they present an appearance of utter ruin. The dwelling houses are all in good order, and the machinery, although mostly snow covered, seems intact.

SEEKS LANDING FIELD

While we were exploring the high peaks and the buildings, Bernt Balchen was busy prospecting for a landing field. The deep snow on the lower hillslopes at present afford an excellent field, and the snow is so deep that it seems likely

Tight-Wire Performer Falls Forty Feet While Husband Bows to Audience

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP).—Mary Luckin de Phillips, twenty-year-old acrobat, plunged to her death tonight on the stage of the Roxy Theatre, crashing to the floor at the feet of her husband, Charles, as he responded with bows and smiles to the applause of the audience.

A moment of silence, then shrill screams of women patrons. Six women fainted and were carried unconscious to the theatre's emergency hospital.

De Phillips bent over and lifted his wife's broken body in his arms as stage hands hurriedly dropped the curtain. She had fallen forty feet from a tight wire on which she rode a one-wheel bicycle.

What caused the plunge was not known, but the physicians said she either missed her footing or suffered an attack of vertigo.

DEPENDENCE ON NAVAL STRENGTH

Some idea of the attitude which Great Britain will take when the London Naval Treaty comes up for revision in 1936 will be indicated in what is done about the Naval Estimates for 1935. These will soon come up for consideration, and they must be considered in the light of the failure of the Disarmament Conference. Great Britain, in every probability, will revert to the practice of making herself secure by her own efforts rather than being dependent upon sanctions into which other countries enter half-heartedly.

There are some who say that the invention of aerial warfare makes Great Britain no longer an island in a military sense. It is true that some forms of injury can be inflicted in aerial ways that cannot be prevented by naval power. It still remains a fact, however, that Great Britain depends for her existence on her freedom to move over the great ocean spaces, and that freedom is dependent on naval power. The British Empire more than any other Power needs naval strength. This was admitted when the French Ministry of Marine made a calculation of the needs for defence purposes of the four great Powers. It took into consideration the area of territory, the length of coasts, the length of communications and the external trade of those Powers. The conclusion reached was that, with Italy as the unit, the factors work out as follows: British Empire, 10; United States, 4.2; France, 3; Japan, 1.6; Italy, 1.

Disarmament discussions have given altogether too little consideration to parity of security, though that should be the criterion for the reduction of forces under Article 8 of the Covenant of the League of Nations. The London Naval Treaty was based on equal naval strength between the Powers on a mathematical footing. Even on the basis of the London Treaty parity on a mathematical basis does not work out at all when it applies to that very important part of naval strength, namely personnel. The approximate figures for active personnel are: Italy, 53,000; France, 63,000; United States, 107,000; British Empire, 98,000.

The situation so far as Great Britain is concerned was outlined by Sir Roger Keyes some months ago when he said that the number of cruisers that Britain possesses is insufficient to provide for the needs of the Fleet and of the lines of communication, and of these cruisers, fourteen will be over-age in 1936. The number of flotilla leaders, destroyers and submarines is equally inadequate in view of the strength of the surface and submarine flotillas of other Powers. Forty British destroyers will be over-age in 1936. Great Britain has commenced the task of stopping the making of gestures and is returning to methods designed for the safety of the Empire. That course will undoubtedly, to some extent at least, be evident in the Naval Estimates for 1935.

There is a school of thought which would have Great Britain go on making gestures of disarmament by still further reducing her Navy, on the supposition that other Powers would follow suit. Other Powers have not done this. The Naval treaties designed for disarmament have meant for every Power, save Great Britain, increasing floating strength. That is a position which can no longer be ignored. It was as long ago as 1909 when Lord Grey said: "If we alone among the Great Powers gave up the competition what good should we do? None whatever. No good to ourselves, because we cannot realize great ideals of social reform at home when we are holding our existence at the mercy, caprice if you like, of another nation. . . . We should cease to count for anything among the nations of Europe and we should be fortunate if our liberty were left and we did not become the conscript appendage of some stronger Power."

THE POWER OF FASHION

The average man or woman if asked to name the world's biggest business would err in the reply, for people are often least conscious of what is most obvious. The world's greatest business is fashion, and it has been one of the few businesses that has shown no effects from the depression. Its power and ramifications are discussed in Time and Tide, and these are due to "two of the strongest and most universal of human instincts"—vanity and gregariousness. Time and Tide believes that fashion "has induced in the female of the civilized portions of the globe considerable lopsided development both of emotion and of habit." It says that the interesting thing about this particular instance of maldevelopment is that the economics of the business have now reached a point "when to reduce women to emotional health and sanity would be to threaten such commercial equilibrium as the world still possesses."

Any attempt to cast out fashion and to curb the mass propaganda directed towards making women "beauty-conscious" would "doom giant industries and whole provinces to death." It would "destroy a whole vast complex of economic activities, abolish the greatest of markets, unbalance national budgets and shake the whole fabric of our machine civilization." These are sweeping assertions, but the writer in Time and Tide illustrates what he means. He points out that it is the demand for silk that has provided Japan with the funds to conquer Manchuria. Fashion and its immense range of subsidiaries is the biggest business in any industrial country. In Great Britain and the United States it leads the advertising list in space and value, out-distancing motor cars and patent medicines.

There are some 7,000 different kinds of beauty preparations on the market. In Great Britain these, to the value of $50,000,000, are sold yearly. The 13,000,000 women in that country use 60,000,000 lipsticks a year. British factories are exporting $10,000,000 worth of beauty preparations each year. The market is continually expanding as new preparations are devised and the saturation point is not in sight. In Moscow the Soviet Junta has decreed the publication of a fashion magazine. In Italy Premier Mussolini has grimly acknowledged that fashion is more powerful than any dictator, and he says that in Germany, Nazism, in attempting to dictate to fashion, is making itself ridiculous. Fashion's power seems destined to continue to assert itself, for, as the writer in Time and Tide says: "To wish to be beautiful is most natural, to find it unthinkably to look different from one's herd is even more deeply-rooted part of mankind's psychological make-up."

BOTHOUSE EDUCATION

Dr. Shepherd Dawson, speaking before the Psychological Section of the British Association recently, asked what proportion of those who sit on Education Committees could pass, or have ever been able to pass, the ordinary School Leaving Certificate. Wherein they could not and have not there is humbug about the attitude of youth's supervisors to youth's educational requirements. The attitude defined by State education is that all youth, regardless of capacity, should be nourished on the most potent mental vitamins procurable. "Alas," says a commentator, on this conception, "roses will never bloom on dandelion stalks even in a modern hothouse." Dr. Dawson's conception is that there is no merit in the dandelion electing to remain a dandelion and it is because of this that there must be a thorough-going reform of the "nurserymen" who try to transform modest plants into prize-show exhibits. Here is the comment of The London Morning Post on hothouse education:

"The obvious result of such artificial stimulus in education is to produce not a wiser but a more discontented race, and in not a few cases the stimulus supplied actually increases the feebleness of the community. Warnings like this are constantly being made by educationists nowadays before learned assemblies but they all seem to fall on deaf ears. 'Higher education for everybody' still serves as the slogan of the admirative machine, which, like every other machine, seems to be in a constant state of acceleration."

Mr. de Valera, President of the Irish Free State, was so vexed because he was not chosen as President of the Assembly at Geneva, or Chairman of the Commission on Minorities, that he declined to attend the dinner given to the Empire delegation. Bringing the philosophy of Shakespeare to bear on the situation, The London Morning Post says that the tears live in an onion which should water this sorrow.

HOMELESS!

What cries at midnight when the rainy squalls come sluicing down the darkened window-glass, And twigs beneath a million waterfalls Cumber the drowning grass?

Something to shelter? Something to keep from harm? The stable horses whinny and stamp together, The sheep are in their paddocks safe and warm, The brooded chicks are safe. O Autumn weather,

Al, we can hide from you we long have hidden. It is our homeless hearts that cry in vain, That cower on the highway, tempest-ridden, And wait in the night rain.

—Jessica Nelson North, in "Poetry" (Chicago).

In the lexicon of youth, which fate reserves for a bright manhood, there is no such word as—fall! —Bulwer-Lytton.

Memory is the cabinet of imagination, the treasury of reason, the registry of conscience, and the council chamber of thought.—Basil.

Falseness is susceptible of an infinity of combinations, but truth has only one mode of being.—Rousseau.

Adversity is hard upon a man; but for one man who can stand prosperity, there are a hundred that will stand adversity.—Cicero.

We have been born to associate with our fellow men, and to join in community with the human race.—Cicero.

In the adversity of our best friends we often find something that does not displease us.—Rochefoucauld.

Trust men, and they will be true to you; treat them greatly, and they will show themselves great.—Emerson.

In general, those who have nothing to say contrive to spend the longest time in doing it.—Lowell.

Necessity is the only real sovereign in the world, the only despot for whom there is no law.—Bulwer-Lytton.

The fates lead the willing, and drag the unwilling.—Horace.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

For words are wise men's counters, they do but reckon by them; but they are the money of fools.—Hobbes.

For what is worth in anything But so much money as 'twill bring? —Bulwer.

Are we dreaming, or did we hear someone say a long time ago that it money makes the mare go and the wheels turn? At any rate, it is not true that money is the motive power which moves the business of all the world? Yet money in itself is said to possess no value; that it is merely a medium for the exchange of things which represent values. We suppose it was upon the latter hypothesis that an eminent Bishop of the Church of England, descending from a moment from the realm of spiritualities to the realm of temporalities and economics, declared recently that business is stagnant because of a dearth of money, and that there was a money famine because the medium for the exchange of values was in the custody of the bankers, when it should be in the hands of the government.

If the hypothesis of the reverend doctor is sound, all that is necessary is for governments to make money and put it in circulation; but that process would mean inflation, and competent economists have declared that monetary inflation, like a little learning in business or anything else, is a dangerous thing. If there really is a famine of money, and it is the function of governments to make money plentiful, that process can be accomplished in at least two ways: governments can print bills and call them money or they can take one pound or one dollar and pronounce it two pounds or two dollars, and a miracle is performed. Such a magical rite has been performed by some governments, but in the countries in which the trick has been done there is still a scarcity of money and business is still stagnant. For behind money there must be confidence in the value of any currency.

These are facts which may be hidden from doctors of divinity and apparently are hidden from doctors of philosophy and ordinary unlearned newspaper editors. Also they are facts which are perplexing to professors and far from profound politicians. The ways of money, like the ways of Providence, are past finding out.

A year or so ago there was alleged to have been a famine of money in the United States after thousands of banks had become bankrupt and closed their doors. There then was a depression, which was ascribed to a scarcity of money. In the hope of making the mare go and the wheels turn, the government first devalued the value of the dollar and inflated the value of gold. Then it ordered all citizens who held gold to turn it into the national treasury at the price current before the decree of inflation. Thus another miracle in finance was accomplished. By a simple process in bookkeeping the national treasury became richer by billions of dollars. The government had an abundance of money in its coffers and its credit had been enhanced that it could borrow millions more. It re-established the banks and told the bankers to be more liberal in giving credit, for the purpose of stimulating languished business.

But either the bankers or the manufacturers or business interests appeared to have lost confidence in the economic situation. The bankers declared there was no demand for money. The old mare had balked and the wheels did not begin to turn. Then the government began to spend its own money in the hope of stimulating business. It is said to have spent billions of dollars in this revivifying process, but business has not responded. There still was a lamentable lack of employment. In order to provide more employment the government ordered a reduction in the working hours of labor, and after watching this experiment it declared that several millions of men had been given employment. But a scrutiny of the economic situation under the new order revealed the fact that while the unemployed had been reduced the sum of production also had been reduced and the cost of living correspondingly increased.

The government also tried fixing and stabilizing the prices of both natural and manufactured products. That was a daring experiment, has been deemed a failure, and has been abandoned. All of which proves the truth of the saying that the less governments interfere with business the better for trade. Fixing the hours of labor has not promoted peace within industries. There have been more strikes in the United States since the government undertook to promote peace between labor and capital probably than at any other period in the history of the country, and the whole nation at the present time is seething with labor dissatisfaction and unrest. If an abundance of money can destroy a depression and create prosperity, the United States is the wealthiest country in the world in terms of dollars and has spent them lavishly. There may be things in the heavens which have been revealed to eminent doctors of divinity, but there are things under the heavens about which they are as ill-informed as babes and sucklings. Money and the ways of business are the two of those things.

BEET INDUSTRY IS BRIGHT SPOT

Dr. Charles W. Haentschel Discusses Conditions in Prairie Provinces

The sugar beet industry of Northern Alberta is the bright spot in agricultural activities on the Prairies, according to Dr. Charles W. Haentschel, of Halesbury, Ont., supreme grand master of the Sovereign Great Priory of the Knights Templars, who was a visitor in Victoria Tuesday.

Dr. Haentschel left for Vancouver on the midnight boat Tuesday, after addressing a gathering of the local chapter of the Knights Templars. Discussing conditions on the Prairies, Dr. Haentschel said that recent heavy snows would most likely lower the grade of Canada's wheat this year. Threshing had been completed, he declared, and there appeared to be a more optimistic outlook prevailing.

The damage done by the wind in Southern Saskatchewan was appalling, he stated. Soil had drifted against fence lines, and railway fences throughout the southern part of the province.

One nurse is on call continuously to take nursing and emergency calls, allowing the other nurses freedom to carry on their school, infant-welfare, pre-natal and post-natal, and well-baby clinics. The same nurse is not on call, however, as the schedule is so arranged that all nurses alternate in taking calls. This enables all nurses to get acquainted with the different districts, and generally with all patients.

EDUCATION AND PREVENTION

The whole of the nursing scheme is primarily one of education and the prevention of sickness and spread of epidemics, but emergency calls and bedside nursing are also attended to.

The nursing schedule is as follows (Districts alphabetically): Cedar Hill, Wednesday a.m., Friday p.m., Miss Smith; Cloverdale, Monday p.m., Thursday a.m., Miss Smith; Craigflower, Monday p.m., Wednesday p.m., Miss Tate; Gordon Head, Tuesday p.m., Friday p.m., Miss Smith; Keating, Monday p.m., Thursday p.m., Miss Smith; Lake Hill, interchangeable with McKenzie, Miss Hocking; McKenzie, Tuesday p.m., Thursday a.m., Miss Hocking; Prospect Lake, Tuesday a.m., Friday p.m., Miss Hocking; Saanich, Monday p.m., Thursday a.m., Miss Smith; Strawberry, Wednesday a.m., Thursday p.m., Miss Tate; Tillamook, Tuesday a.m., Friday a.m., Miss Tate; Tolmie, Monday a.m., Wednesday p.m., Friday a.m., Miss Hocking; West Saanich, Tuesday a.m., Friday p.m., Miss Hocking; Mount Newton High School, Monday a.m., Miss Jenkins; Mount View High School, Wednesday a.m., Miss Jenkins; Mount Douglas High School, Friday a.m., Miss Jenkins.

POOL EXPECTS TO MEET PAYMENTS

Manitoba Elevators Head Assures
Meeting Liabilities to Government Will Be Paid

WINNIPEG, Oct. 17 (CP).—An assurance that indebtedness of the Manitoba Pool Elevators, Ltd., to the Manitoba Government, would be paid in full, was made today by Paul F. Brett, Kemnay, Man., president, in the directors' report submitted to the annual meeting of the pool organization today.

"The progress made in the last three years, despite light crops, is a very definite indication that the Manitoba pool elevators will be able to meet its obligations to the Government," said Mr. Brett. "There need be no anxiety on the part of taxpayers generally that any loss will be occasioned by its operations." The report showed a net operating surplus of $361,046. Payment of $184,972 due the Government this year has been met in full and the $48,768 unpaid last year was paid this year. The indebtedness of the pool to the Government, totaling $2,100,000 when the pool was reorganized in 1921, has been reduced to $1,649,402. The balance of the operating surplus, approximately $125,000, was added to the reserve account.

BURIED AT COLWOOD
The funeral of George S. Brett, who passed away in this city on Monday, took place on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. O. L. Jull conducted the service, during which the hymns, "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me" were sung. "Beyond" was rendered as a solo by Mrs. H. Shingles. Interment was made in Colwood Burial Park, with the following pallbearers: Honorary, A. L. Hickling and H. Shingles; active, J. E. Harrison, A. Spiller, J. Hammond, W. P. Tilley, R. R. Sewell and J. Bleakley.

ALEX MARLING LAID AT REST

Tribute Paid by Big Congregation to Memory of Local Sportsman

Impressive tribute to the late Alex. Marling, one of the city's best known sportsmen, and professional at the Royal Colwood Golf Club since 1923, was paid by a large gathering of friends at funeral rites conducted here yesterday afternoon. Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor of First United Church, officiated.

Dr. Wilson spoke of the many admirable qualities possessed by the late Mr. Marling, and said that the deceased had been respected and beloved by all with whom he had come in contact.

Reference was made by Dr. Wilson to the interest which had been taken by Mr. Marling in the game of golf, in which he had won a high place before coming to Victoria. The minister recalled the expression used by a famous professional in the Old Land in speaking of the deceased when he said that Scotland was the poorer and Canada the richer for the removal of Alex. Marling to this country.

The part taken by the deceased in the Great War was alluded to by Dr. Wilson. Mr. Marling's patriotism to his country had caused him to give his services willingly in a great cause. Like so many others who had endured the trials of those days, he said that no doubt those experiences had had the effect of shortening Mr. Marling's life.

LARGE ATTENDANCE
The chapel was crowded, the accommodation being insufficient to provide for the many who had been associated with the deceased in a social way and in the realm of golf. The hymns sung during the service were "Unto the Hills" and "Lead, Kindly Light."

A wonderful profusion of flowers were sent by friends. Interment took place at the Royal Oak Burial Park, where Dr. Wilson also conducted the service.

The pallbearers were Major J. R. Kingham, J. H. Richardson, Comte Jean de Suranne, J. L. Mara, T. S. McPherson and J. Graham Graham.

LOSES FORTUNE
LONDON.—William Henry Rainbow, who gassed himself in despair over having lost his money in a vain attempt to break the bank at Monte Carlo, had been a railway traffic superintendent in India. He retired on a gratuity of $30,000.

Takes Rat Poison To Reduce Weight

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (CP).—A diet of rat poison, taken to reduce his weight so he could realize his boyhood ambition to become a jockey like his father, put Charles Huestis, fifteen, in a hospital today. Charles told detectives he took seven hourly doses of the poison in order to cut down his 115 pounds. His condition was reported as "good."

FLOORED BY BLOW WITH TEA KETTLE

Search Begun in Seattle for Woman and Daughter Abducted After Struggle

SEATTLE, Oct. 17 (AP).—A city-wide search for Mrs. Millie LaPierre, twenty-seven, and her five-year-old daughter, Dorothy, was begun tonight after her brother, Emerson Walker, reported that the two had been abducted from his home after a terrific struggle.

A man with whom she had been keeping company for some time, but from whom she recently broke off the friendship, forced his way into the house and made off with them, Walker said. The abduction occurred about 5 p.m., he said.

J. L. Christensen, a roomer at the Walker home and the only other person there at the time, was badly beaten in a fight with the intruder. Another man was driving the car, Christensen said.

"He was like a wild man," Christensen said. "He floored me with a blow over the head with the tea kettle, and then struck Millie once or twice before taking her to the car."

POLICY CAUSING UGLY SITUATION

Says Free State Selling Cattle by Method That Will Lead to Revolution

TORONTO, Oct. 17 (CP).—The Irish Free State's present policy of selling cattle will lead to a revolution, declared Colonel Harry McGee, honorary colonel of the Irish Regiment, in an address here tonight. He declared that on his recent visit to the Free State he found there was a "very ugly situation" developing.

He said that there was "bootlegging" of cattle from the South to the North, from where the animals could be exported without duty payment.

City and District

Pass Accounts—Accounts in September, totaling $806.47, were ordered paid by Saanich School Board last night.

Ward Three Liberals—A regular meeting of Ward Three Liberal Association will be held at headquarters, tomorrow, at 8 p.m.

To Address Engineers—Frank A. Graham, secretary of the Victoria Sanitary Heating and Ventilation Association, will address a conference of the British Columbia association at the Hotel Vancouver, in Vancouver, next Monday.

To Visit City—E. Otter, who will succeed A. S. McAllister as railway secretary of the Y.M.C.A., will be a Victoria visitor on Saturday, November 3, during the course of a Western tour. Frank Paulding, local secretary, announced, yesterday.

Monthly Report—In September, Dr. Samuel Youden, Saanich school dentist, treated fifty-one patients, worked costing $62, of which $37.80 was collected. The dentist reported to the Municipal School Board last night.

Submit Milk Plan—Independent milk producers from the Fraser Valley met the Provincial Marketing Board, yesterday, submitting tentative proposals in regard to marketing of milk in the Lower Mainland area.

Council Continues—The British Columbia Economic Council continued sittings, yesterday, concluding a two-day session on matters before the group. No public announcement was made. Dr. W. A. Carrothers presided.

To Hold "At Home"—Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, will hold an "at home" for its members, their wives and friends, at the Victoria Hotel, tomorrow, at 8 p.m. The chief speakers will be Alan Chambers, Liberal candidate for the Nanaimo Federal riding, and Norman W. Whitaker, M.P.P. for Saanich. Refreshments will be served at the close of business, and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Killed Duck—In the Provincial Police Court, yesterday, Stipendiary Magistrate George Jay disposed of the charge against H. W. Miller of having killed a duck during the season prohibited under the act. The duck was shot from a boat and was not recovered. Gordon Cameron, who appeared for the accused, pressed for a light fine in view of the fact that there was, on the part of the accused, lack of knowledge as to the bird coming under the act. The minimum fine of $10 was imposed.

Fruit-Selling Charge—In the city police court yesterday, Frank Smith was charged with having violated the Fruit Inspection Act of the Dominion by offering apples for sale in other than the regulation containers. Mr. Smith pleaded not guilty. Reuben Randall, inspector for this district, who appears as prosecutor, was represented by R. D. Harvey, and gave his evidence in the case. Another official from Vancouver will be called to testify concerning the regulations when the case is resumed this morning.

Evidence Differs—David Burnett, charged in the city police court with having committed a common assault upon Mrs. Hattie Kyle by striking her on the cheek, was reminded again yesterday for a week to allow a witness for the defence to arrive in the city. The accused denied the assault. At some length the troubles between Mr. and Mrs. Burnett were introduced into the hearing. Mrs. Kyle was in custody of a child of the Burnetts, and the assault is alleged to have taken place in Mrs. Kyle's rooming-house.

Liberals Preparing—Early discussion of a nomination convention to select a Liberal candidate in the Victoria Federal riding is in prospect, according to leading Liberals in the city yesterday. A number of names are being unofficially mentioned, pointing to a warm contest for the honor.

Meeting Tomorrow—The annual meeting of Ward Five Saanich Liberal Association will be held in the Royal Oak School, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Mr. Alan Chambers, Liberal candidate for Nanaimo Federal riding, and Mr. Norman Whitaker, M.P.P. for Saanich, will address the meeting.

November Conference—British Columbia has suggested November 12 as a tentative date for the final Dominion-Provincial conference at Ottawa this year. It was said yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. Four members of the Cabinet are expected to attend.

Big Increase Shown In Exports of Autos

OTTAWA, Oct. 17 (CP).—The export of automobiles to Australia during the first nine months of 1934 amounted to 14,179, of the value of $2,610,702, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today. In the corresponding period last year the figures were 4,554 automobiles, at $1,305,052.

CLOSING REVENUE LAW LOOPHOLES

U.S. Government Notices Scores of Corporations of Large Sums Owning on Taxes

Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP).—As part of a broad move to close revenue law loopholes, United States treasury was disclosed today, to have notified around 100 corporations that they owe the Government scores of millions of dollars in deficient taxes.

A tax deficiency of $17,199,797 was shown to have been assessed against Fisher & Company, of Detroit, holding concern for investments of the six Fisher brothers, long powerful figures in the automobile industry.

Aiming particularly to curb alleged illegal transfer of profits to surplus to avoid surtax payments by stockholders, the treasury has levied on about five score other companies penalties of 50 per cent of net income for the years concerned.

Nearly fifty of the companies have replied, denying the allegations, and in many instances challenging the constitutionality of the penalty provision.

FEARS PLOT TO SEIZE DAUGHTER

Wealthy Ontario Tea Merchant Removes Girl to Her Home for Safety

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Oct. 17 (CP).—John G. Daly, Nanawee millionaire tea merchant, was reticent when questioned here, late today, regarding threatening notes received concerning his daughter, Celestine Daly, student at the Toronto Conservatory of Music. When asked why he was taking his daughter home to Nanawee, he declared it was "just a precaution."

Three notes, threatening his daughter with kidnapping, apparently were received. "I would rather not talk about it," Mr. Daly said, but he appeared wary and cautious.

"You can judge for yourself," was his only reply to questions as to whether his car had been guarded while driving his daughter from Toronto. Shortly after the Daly car appeared here, another machine followed it into the city.

SUNKEN OIL TANKER RAISED TO SURFACE

MONTREAL, Oct. 17 (CP).—The British oil tanker Maple Branch today was raised to the surface of Montreal Harbor after being submerged to her funnel for two months. She sank August 13 with her side ripped open by the propeller of H.M.S. Dragon. She will be repaired in drydock.

IMPORTANT

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—because it is all bran with only flavor added, gives you the generous amount of "bulk" needed to promote proper elimination.

It is recommended as much more efficient in relieving constipation than part-bran products which cannot contain as much "bulk."

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

COUNT those friends of yours who get a lot of happiness out of living. Health helps them see the bright side of things—smooths over the every-day bumps. They're happy because they're healthy.

Downcast days frequently follow common constipation. It may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet it can be overcome usually by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regularity. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Special processes of cooking and flavoring make Kellogg's ALL-BRAN more palatable than ordinary bran.

Miss Harriet O'Brien Heads Catholic League

Members to Forward Resolution to Department of Education Regarding Privileges for Catholic School Children—New Executive Named

Miss Harriet O'Brien was elected president of the Diocesan Catholic Women's League at the ninth annual convention, held yesterday at St. Ann's Parish Hall, corner of View and Blanshard streets.

The other officers were elected as follows: First vice-president, Mrs. Blair Reid; second vice-president, Mrs. P. Harris; third vice-president, Mrs. J. D. Kinsinger; secretary, Miss Eleanor McDonald; treasurer, Miss Briggs; councillors, Victoria senior subdivision, Mrs. W. McManus, Mrs. D. W. Morry and Miss Catherine Mackay; Fort Alberni, Mrs. Renwick and Mrs. Brierly; Esquimalt, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Fain and Mrs. Gillespie; Victoria junior subdivision, Miss Nellie Redgrave, Miss Eulalia O'Neill and Miss C. Morry; Cobble Hill, Mrs. Webber and Mrs. McDonnell; and Oak Bay, Mrs. H. A. Goward. Mrs. W. W. Baines and Mrs. Parker.

NEW SUBDIVISION
The retiring president, Mrs. R. A. Duncan, was in the chair at the afternoon and evening sessions, and Rev. Father Wood opened the convention with prayer. The convention reports were read and the work of the past year reviewed. Of outstanding interest was the report of the formation of a new subdivision at Ladysmith.

Mrs. Stockwood, national convenor of Girl Guides for the league, made a plea for the formation of Roman Catholic Guide companies in Victoria, and the question was discussed by the members.

At the evening session the new executive was named and reports of the various subdivisions were read by the following representatives: Victoria senior, Mrs. McManus; Cobble Hill, Mrs. McDonnell; Esquimalt, Mrs. Harris; Oak Bay, Mrs. Mackay; junior, Miss Morry, and Diocesan, Miss Mackay.

RESOLUTION PASSED
The subject of "Education" was of particular interest to the members. Rev. Father A. B. Wood giving an address on this subject at the evening session. The following resolution was passed concerning manual training class privileges for Catholic school children:

"Whereas the privilege formerly accorded to students of Catholic schools to attend manual training and domestic science classes as conducted by the Department of Education has been withdrawn, and whereas this privilege is claimed on the ground of our contribution to school taxes, be it resolved that the Diocesan Catholic Women's League in convention at Victoria strongly recommend to the Minister of Education that the students of Catholic schools may again be held eligible to attend these classes."

The problem of the maintenance of Catholic schools on Vancouver Island was pointed out by Rev. Father Wood in his address. The majority of Catholic children being denied the privilege of Catholic education. He appealed to the league to realize the seriousness of such a situation.

He heartily congratulated the league on its achievements, and made particular reference to the Cobble Hill subdivision, which has made excellent progress.

Mrs. Duncan made an appeal for teachers of Catholicism. Miss Briggs read the treasurer's report.

CHINESE MISSION
Rev. Father Scheelan, Rev. Father Roberts and Rev. Father Gaudette addressed the members briefly. Rev. Father Roberts and Rev. Father Gaudette both expressing the hope that the time would not be far distant when signs of Catholic Mission activity would be noticed among the Orientals in the city. Father Gaudette referred to the mission which is being conducted successfully in Vancouver by Rev. Father Sharkey.

Other speakers at the evening meeting were Brother Ward, Mr. W. T. Gagnon, Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus, and Mr. J. D. Kinsinger.

A musical interlude was much enjoyed, during which Miss Colbert and Mrs. Shanks sang, and Rev. Father Gaudette played "Ave Maria" as a violin solo, and several delightful Irish airs.

Bouquets were presented by Mrs. McManus to Mrs. Duncan and Mrs. Mackay in appreciation of their services to the league.

Mrs. Duncan, the retiring president, warmly thanked the executive for its wholehearted support during her term of office and made reference to the great success of the National convention held during the summer in Victoria.

Revellers Club Arranging Dance
Routine business was transacted by the Revellers Club at its meeting last night. The club welcomed Burgess McMahon, Wayne Butler and Allan Rogerson as new members, and also passed the application for membership of Lloyd Patterson.

J. G. Wheeler, T. A. Stevenson and R. Butler were appointed to a committee to arrange for the Christmas hamper distribution.

The dance committee reported a brisk demand for tickets for the club dance, to be held October 28. The committee in charge of that event is composed of R. Butler, C. MacNeill, R. Kay and J. Mercer.

Y.P.S. News
Victoria West
The weekly meeting of the Victoria West United Y.P.S. was held on Tuesday evening, commencing with a devotional study. Plans are being made for the Table Tennis Club from which four members will be selected to compete against the four competitors from the Esquimalt Y.P.S. final arrangements of which will be made next Tuesday evening. Mr. Mitchell answered questions from the question box which proved interesting and provided much amusement. The theme for next week will be "Current Events."

CENTENNIAL
In the absence of the president, Sam Sweetnam presided at the regular meeting of Centennial Young People's Society, held on Tuesday evening, in the church parlors. After a short devotional period, led by Mildred Dickson, Mary Mathews and Bernard Ennals, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. Ernie Hatch reported on the work of the committee arranging for a table tennis league.

The speakers of the evening were provided by the discussion group of the church. The first speaker, Mildred Dickson, took as her subject "Mobilized Youth." She discussed the attitude of the young people of countries ruled by autocrats and the attitude which young people of democratic countries should adopt. Laurie Beddington gave a short address on "The Attainment of Happiness." Rev. C. G. MacKenzie led a short discussion on the speeches to illustrate how the study group is conducted. The meeting closed with the singing of a hymn and a prayer. A short period of games was then conducted.

Next week a local oratorical contest will be held. Six speakers have entered, and each address will take the form of a sermon.

DUNCAN
Mr. A. Towell, supervisor of Nanaimo schools, gave a most thought-provoking address to the Parent-Teacher Association at its monthly meeting at the K. of P. Hall, at Duncan, on Tuesday night. His subject was "Are the Three R's Enough?" Mr. Towell listened to with close attention by the members present and was very heartily thanked for his address. R. A. Thorpe, president of the local Parent-Teacher Association, occupied the chair. In the short business meeting following the speech, a report on the work of the study groups was given and all who are able to do so were urged to attend the study group meeting next Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. W. E. Corfield. Parent-teacher meetings in future will be held on the third Tuesday of the month instead of on the second as formerly, owing to the difficulty in getting speakers near the beginning of a month. It was decided to have guest night at the next meeting each member pledging himself to honorary work in the Bahamas. Miss Helen Lemon thanked the speakers.

Anglican Young People
MID-ISLAND
The rally of Mid-Island A.Y.P.A. groups that will be held in Duncan on the week-end of October 27 under the extension committee of the provincial council was discussed by the A.Y.P.A. of St. John's Church, Duncan, Tuesday night. A united dance will be held in the K. of P. Hall at the close of the rally. It was announced. Mr. James MacDonald was in the chair. The programme for the evening combined two principles of the association, namely worship and edification, and, after a short meeting in the church, where Rev. A. Bischoff, vicar, talked on the parts of the church, giving their names, origin and uses, the group adjourned to the hall, where Rev. H. P. Napier gave an interesting and humorous talk on a day in his missionary work in the Bahamas. Miss Helen Lemon thanked the speakers.

Langford
Mrs. Pell, of Victoria, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. L. Powers, of Langford Lodge, for a few days.

Cooking Expert Coming Shortly

It will no doubt be good news to the hundreds of ladies who last year met Jane Taylor Allen, internationally-known consultant on cooking and director of General Foods, Limited, Consumers' Service Department, to learn that she will be in Victoria again from Tuesday until Saturday, inclusive, of next week, to conduct a free "school" in cooking, which is being sponsored by David Spencer, Limited.

Classes will be held, at 2:30 o'clock, on Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons, and at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

A model kitchen has been set up so that actual demonstrations can be made, and comfortable seating arrangements have been provided for a large number. The model kitchen is so arranged that all will be able to hear and see.

Jane Taylor Allen will have an entirely new programme this year and each day she will cover a different subject. In reality it will amount to a free course in cooking. New ideas for week-day meals, Sunday suppers, luncheons, Christmas dainties, etc., will be offered.

National Council Makes Plea for Good Movies

OTTAWA, Oct. 17 (CP).—With the declaration that "low standards in the motion picture field have a direct relationship to juvenile delinquency and crime," the National Council of Women today lined up in support of measures to clean up the pictures.

The council carried unanimously the following resolution:

"Realizing the powerful influence of the cinema in molding and educating public opinion;

"Realizing, too, the fact that low standards in the motion picture field have a direct relationship to juvenile delinquency and crime;

"The National Council of Women, in annual meeting assembled, would, therefore, strongly urge all its federations, local, provincial and national, to lend their support to efforts being made at the present time to secure a production of pictures which would assist in character development and provide a medium of wholesome recreation."

A resolution which deplored "the increasing tendency of the Remembrance Day services in many parts of Canada to be made a military pageant and a diplomatic ceremonial," evoked discussion, but was referred to the convenor of the League of Nations committee, so that it may go to local councils for expression of their opinions thereon.

St. Mark's A.Y.P.A. To Present Comedy

St. Mark's A.Y.P.A. Dramatic Club will present the mystery-comedy play entitled "The Perfect Little Goose," in the Quadra School Auditorium, on Saturday, at 8 p.m., under the auspices of the Quadra School Parent-Teacher Association.

"The Perfect Little Goose" was presented by these players on July 15 and 16, at St. Mark's Parish Hall, to capacity audiences.

The Quadra Parent-Teacher Association has set itself an objective for this coming year to provide additional equipment for the Quadra School, and thus help the students in their school work. Fifty per cent of the proceeds of this play will go towards this new objective and it is hoped that all parents interested in Quadra School progress will attend.

The players taking part are as follows: Play, Miss L. Higham, Miss M. Clarke, Miss E. White, Miss H. Graham, Miss D. Rogers, Harold George, Albert George, Reg. Porter and Arthur Matcham; string ensemble, Mrs. Ruby Moore, leader, Mrs. O. L. Jull, Miss M. Reay, Alfred Botten, Albert Tilley, Melbourne Little, Jack Moore, Albert

Fashion Display Will Be Held at Angus Campbell's

THE annual Fall fashion show will be held by Angus Campbell & Co., Ltd., tomorrow, in the store, commencing at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock in the evening, when the latest styles will be displayed by the mannequins, featuring costumes for sports, afternoon and evening wear. A similar revue was held last year at the store, and attracted a large number of spectators, the evening performance having been specially arranged so that business women may attend.

Botten, Mr. Highfield and Elved Davies. P. E. George is director of the play.

Irish Brother—"Look here I want you to quit keeping company with that fellow MacTavish. For two-pence I'd kick him right out of this house."

Sister—"You needn't. For two-pence he'd leave of his own accord."

Governor-General's Former Aide Wed

Here comes the bride! It's a picture to thrill the heart of any belle. The handsome groom is Captain Edward Colville, of the Gordon Highlanders, former aide-de-camp to Lord Bessborough Canada's Governor-General. He is the second son of Admiral Stanley and Lady Adelaide Colville. The bride is Miss Barbara Benny, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. M. Benny. She is wearing a beautiful wedding gown topped by a veil of old lace, and is carrying a beautiful bouquet of calla lilies as she leaves St. Mark's Church, in Staplefield, after the ceremony. Socially prominent guests, including Lady Bessborough, wished them God-speed. The little page looks wonderfully around him as he clutches the hand of the groom.

Mrs. Victor Bartholomew entertained at a largely-attended tea yesterday afternoon, at her home on Fort Street, and was assisted in receiving her guests by her mother, Mrs. G. P. Napier. The tea table, which was presided over by Mrs. Victor Bartholomew and Miss Vivienne Combe, was most artistically was the Empire arrangement of the flowers on the tea table and throughout the house. Mrs. Fred Bartholomew poured tea, and Miss Vivienne Combe, coffee.

Arranged. A novelty of the decorations

Planning Guest Tea

Mrs. Donald McAdie, 1514 Gladstone Avenue, president of the Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary, entertained yesterday the members of the auxiliary, the presidents of local women's organizations and wives of the presidents of the men's organizations which are co-operating in plans for the annual guest tea to be held at the Y.M.C.A. on November 7. At the close of the business discussion, Mrs. McAdie served tea, and a more informal social hour was enjoyed.

Bridge Club Meeting

Miss Kaye Hall was hostess to the members of her bridge club, at her home, Howe Street, Monday evening. Miss Lois MacMurchie was winner of the first prize. Those present were Misses Kaye and Ruth Crowhurst, Aidyn Wood, Grace Gibbons, Laura Thompson, Lois MacMurchie and Billie and Kaye Hall. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Miss Grace Gibbons, Toronto Street.

Will Sail Saturday

Mrs. Fred Pollard, of Gillespie Place, and her sister, Mrs. Cameron, accompanied by her four daughters, will sail on Saturday aboard the Ss. Empress of Japan for Japan. Mrs. Cameron and her daughters have been spending the summer months in Victoria at the Windermere Hotel, and are returning to their home in Yokohama.

Junior Yacht Club Dance

The junior members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will hold a dance, tomorrow evening, at the clubhouse, from 9 to 11 o'clock. Supper will be served. The committee includes: Miss Mildred Hawke and Mr. David Angus.

Winnipeg Visitors

Maternity Welfare Is of Importance

OTTAWA, Oct. 17 (CP).—Greater care in pre-natal and post-natal treatment was urged, last night, to the National Council of Women by Dame Janet Campbell, one of the outstanding figures in maternity welfare in the world. Economic inability to provide such care should not be a hindrance to its provision, she said. The concern of the community should be to insure that such facilities were open to all women, and that the modern woman had become less anxious for children, but argued it was the business of the maternity service to furnish them with courage and confidence. If mothers could be brought to take full advantage of the skilled medical and nursing care provided for them, the "melancholy tale of avoidable death and injury must surely diminish," she said.

Gladys Glad On Beauty

A famous world traveler, who spent quite some time in Tokyo recently told me that in some of the hotels over there, the gentlemen guests all dine in private, but bathe in public. If you wish to bathe in those hotels, you must step into the huge tub provided for that purpose, whether there are others in it or not. And there are polite serving maids there to scrub your back for you.

In this country, of course, people all bathe in private. And they don't have serving maids to scrub their backs for them. They do their own scrubbing. And they know that a proper scrubbing implement must be employed to cleanse the body perfectly. Such a cleansing implement should always be chosen with care. It should not be so harsh that it irritates the skin. It should not be so soft that it proves ineffective. And it should not be one that cannot be easily sterilized.

Sponges as bath accessories have in recent years, lost a good deal of their popularity—for which I am thankful. For when you consider how some families employ a sponge you can readily understand the dangers that accompany its use. The sponge is placed in the bathroom and used day in and day out. It is never once treated with an antiseptic. And yet a sponge can prove a most effective germ carrier.

Some sponges really cannot be effectively antiseptized. Your rubber sponge, for instance. I don't know any antiseptic that won't take all the pep out of a rubber sponge after three or four dings. And boiling water also proves too much for a rubber sponge.

Some people still go in for such crudities as soap-filled rubber sponges, scratchy luffs sponges, and

The vicar was worried because the young women of the parish were "settling their caps" at the handsome young curate.

"I know," he said to the young man, "that you have given them no encouragement, but such a state of affairs is unseemly. I am reluctantly compelled to ask you to offer your services elsewhere."

"But, surely, sir, there is safety in numbers."

"There is," replied the vicar, "but there is even greater safety in exodus."

PARIS (UP).—Georgette Renal makes most of her coats full-length and contrasts them with the dress worn beneath.

A bright Malachite green flannel dress with a draped neckline and kimono sleeves, for instance, has a long coat of one of the new wools from Chatillon Mouly Rousset that looks like a thick wool alpaca. The coat has sleeves which widen at the elbow and the neckline is finished off with a large bow. The belt of supple suede is the same color as the coat and is worn on the dress when the coat is removed. The coat is in Madame Renal's new "Black Iris."

For evening, one of the most striking ensembles from this house is a dress of large check lame in black and white squares. The facings of the short jacket are of shiny patent leather, as well as the belt of the dress. The skirt is slit to the knee in front and has a triple row of small stiff ruffles over one hip. A small ruffle is also used as a border at the hem.

Trains, when they appear, are only used for very formal evening gowns and are long enough to be carried over the arm or looped over the wrist. One clever train divides in half, is brought up over the shoulders and knotted loosely in front with the effect of a graceful cape.

Neptune is the outermost member of the solar system.

Friendly Help Campaign Is Nearing $12,000 Mark

Staffs Collect Subscriptions for Fund—Time Payments May Be Made—Valuable Work Done by Trained Social Problem Experts

The Friendly Help Welfare Association had nearly reached the $12,000 mark at the close of yesterday's drive, the third day of the campaign to raise $40,000 for social welfare work in the Greater Victoria area.

"There may be many persons who would like to support the work of the association, but who cannot conveniently give a cash donation at the present time," Stewart Clark, campaign manager, stated yesterday.

TIME PAYMENTS
"Donations may be placed over a period of time, twelve months if desired, without even a cash payment. Pledge cards are available for signature at the campaign headquarters, room 6, Winch Building, 640 Port Street," Mr. Clark said.

The employees of certain business houses in the city, recognizing the value of the work done by the welfare organizations in Greater Victoria, have spontaneously started subscription lists among themselves. The campaign committee wishes to express its appreciation of these efforts. Mr. Clark told a member of the press.

TRAINED WORKERS
Social service work requires a training and skill not generally appreciated. Today, as never before, social workers are called upon to deal with social and economic problems of staggering proportions. This work demands a trained personnel commensurate with that required by medicine, law or teaching. A trained social service worker will save the cost of her annual salary several times by the giving of constructive service, rather than financial assistance, thus effecting a substantial saving to the taxpayer. A constructive service aims at helping a family out of trouble and the resumption by the family of an independent position in the community.

The Friendly Help Welfare Association employs a trained social worker, whose services are available not only to the city of Victoria, but also to the three municipalities.

DONATION LIST
The following subscriptions were acknowledged yesterday: Previously acknowledged, $8,556. B.C. Electric Railway Company, $500; R. H. Port, $250; Anon., $100; F. W. Hartley, $100; A. C. ### KIDNEY STONES

One of the most painful conditions with which man is afflicted is a stone at the entrance of the tube which carries the urine from the kidney to the bladder, or a stone that gets caught in this tube. These stones are called renal (kidney) or ureteral (tube) stones or calculi.

The pain is so severe that morphine is usually necessary to give the patient relief. Operation for removal of these stones demands considerable judgment and skill on the part of the surgeon.

The best treatment between these attacks of pain, or "colic" as it is called, is now receiving careful consideration by physicians, as there has been a great increase in the number of cases in recent years.

Some of these methods are the dilating or enlarging of the tubes or ureters, drugs to make these tubes squeeze their contents downwards, increased flooding of the kidneys, and tubes by giving large amounts of fluids—water mostly, and the use of volatile oils.

Dr. F. Lickint, Munich, suggests the use of glycerine to drive out or does will result in failure and he expel the stones; it stimulates the peristaltic or squeezing action of the tubes so that the stones are squeezed downwards; it has a stimulating effect upon the kidneys themselves, the use of glycerine. He was able making them manufacture or secrete to obtain the removal of the stone more urine; it has a lubricating or in fourteen out of sixteen patients, loosening action on the tubes, and to whom he gave the dose mentioned to some extent at least, it dissolves them.

Dr. A. M. Crane has found the that it will pass down more readily following manipulation very successful. Dr. Lickint points out that small careful in dislodging moderate-sized stones in the tubes. A catheter (a rubber or fibre tube) is left in the tube which extends from the kidney or bladder for twenty-four, forty-eight or seventy-two hours. As this catheter is about to be withdrawn sterile water is injected up the catheter to a point a little past its entrance into the kidney. The catheter is then withdrawn. The injection of the water and the withdrawal of the catheter at the same time often dislodge the stone.

CHAPTER X

Drew and his sister had started out of the shop when Nancy's eye was caught by a flash of color among certain dingy volumes in a locked cabinet. "What a delectable binding!" She leaned down to look closer. "Thackeray—the Four Georges... such a nice fat little book, and that red and gold."

"It's a first edition," he said, and laid the book in her hands.

"How much?" she asked.

"He named the price and she said, 'Outrageous!'"

He laughed. "You know it isn't."

He found she had a nice taste in leathers, knew a lot about collections, and had made some rare finds of her own. "Picked 'em up for a song. That's the only kind I dare indulge in."

She pounced on another, "The Amber Witch... how adorable! May I see it?"

He got it out of the case for her. "It's not for sale."

Drew, who had been showing signs of impatience while they talked, broke in rather insolently. "You'd sell it if you got your price for it, wouldn't you?"

"It hasn't any price."

"You mean that you won't take any offer?"

"Why not?"

His tone was inoffensive, but Giles, leaning back against a table, surveyed him with calm eyes. "I won't sell because I got the book from my grandfather's collection. He lived in Salem and pleased himself by studying the history of witchcraft. He was a gentleman and a scholar."

After he had said it, Giles hated himself. Why should he fling out the facts of his ancestry in that crude way, as if he had to prove it? He was glad when Nancy interposed before her brother could speak.

"Lucky for me The Amber Witch isn't for sale. I might pawn my jewels to get it."

She smiled at Giles, and he found himself rather liking her in spite of the facts of his ancestry in that crude way, as if he had to prove it? He was glad when Nancy interposed before her brother could speak.

in exchange his egotism, his sophistication, his uneven temper. He found himself pacing the shop like a caged animal. He couldn't get the thing off his mind. That exquisite youth and idealism linked to materialistic middle-age. The thought of it was preposterous. There was, too, the somewhat confusing conflict between what the girl had told him and the things he had overheard. He had had it from her lips that she had earned her living, yet here was her lover crediting her with a fortune. Her lover... Giles, sitting down to his desk, found it difficult to keep his mind on his accounts. There were few customers. Such as came in he waited on, then went back to his unbecoming task. He hated figures, but felt he could not afford a bookkeeper. On a sudden impulse, he dropped his pen, closed the ledger, and took from a drawer a journal in which it had become his habit in his somewhat lonely life to write of the things which happened in the day. He began without preface. "She shall not marry him. That is as settled in my mind as if I had the right, like a guardian in an old melodrama, to forbid the banns. And why shouldn't I forbid them? Why should not any man of chivalrous purpose set himself against such a catastrophe? If I saw a ship heading for the rocks, wouldn't I have a right to save it? And this child must be saved. I have met her but once, but I am as sure of what she is as I would be if I had known her forever. Everything about her speaks of simplicity and sincerity and grace of spirit. Married to such a man, in a month she would hate him. It would be his darkness against her light. His worldliness against her innocence. She would never have the power to drag him up to her. He might have the power to drag her down. "In finding a way to save her, I shall ask nothing for myself, except perhaps a little fire of friendship at which to warm my hands. I can ask no more than that. I would not if I could. Such an undertaking must be selfless. "Scripps would call me a fool. Perhaps I am a fool. But I see no other way. Her little ship of life is heading for the rocks. I cannot stand by and see it wrecked. "He put the book away, and going downstairs later, Giles further relieved his mind by describing the precious pair to Scripps. "And people like that come and high-tail us... you and me whose grandfathers were sailing ships when theirs were digging potatoes. Oh, you should have seen them. Scripps. The kind you and I have laughed at in Trouville and Nice and Paris—the type is unmistakable. Bizarre and self-satisfied."

love with her. And then what would happen? For Giles had not told his friend what he had overheard. He had not told him that Joan was engaged, or that she had money. He had, in fact, said nothing except that her friends had come for the slippers, and that he wondered that they could be her friends. While the two of them talked, the telephone rang. Giles answered it and came back. It was Margarida. She says that Amelle wants me. She had grown very excited and insistent. Thinks that something has happened to me and that she must see me. "You'll go, of course?" "If I do, it means that I must close the shop." "Well, why not?" Scripps argued, his voice shaken and almost hysterical. "Why not? When you come to it, why are you selling books, Giles? Just to keep my company?" "What better can I do than sell books?" "Oh, there are a thousand things. Travel, adventure. If I didn't tie you and Amelle."

They were silent for a moment, then Giles said, with gentleness. "Don't mull over things, old man. Do you think I should be happy, leaving you to bear it?" "Oh, God help us," said Scripps. "Brokenly, and his head went down in his hands. "Giles, a little later, driving the grey boat towards the bright waters, felt that only God could help them. He had a rather simple faith, held close in his heart in spite of all the things which might have made him sceptical—Amelle, Scripps, the Great War. And now here was this lovely child, whom he had met once, seen twice, drifting towards a life of inevitable disillusionment. God must help. "He gave strength and direction to the vague plans that were forming in his brain. As Giles reached the island and tied up his boat to the pier, the name painted on it came to him with new meaning—The Conqueror. One must fight if one meant to win. "We are more than conquerors through Him that loved us. (To Be Continued)

Fainted to Order With No Trouble

KIMBALL, N.B., Oct. 17 (CP).—Fainting women tell no tales," is the title of a Nebraska robber's text.

He entered the Kimball Seed Company, poked a gun in the face of Mrs. Clabell. Parish, bookkeeper, said "Faint!"

Mrs. Parish did just that; the robber scooped up about $28 and walked away.

SMOKE NUISANCE

GETTING READY FOR CHRISTMAS

Shawnigan Lake Community Arranges Programme—Committees Struck

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Oct. 17.—At a public meeting held in the S.L.A.A. Hall, on Tuesday evening the local advance agents of Santa Claus decided to assist him as usual with the annual Christmas entertainment for the children of the district.

H. E. Hawking, chairman, and A. H. Pious, secretary-treasurer, were re-elected. The date of the entertainment will be announced later by the secretary.

The evening programme was discussed and decided upon as follows: Children's supper, 5:00 p.m.; programme by school children, 7:30 p.m.; Santa Claus, 9:15 p.m., and children's games until 12:00 midnight.

After some discussion it was decided to include all children in the Shawnigan Lake school district who have not yet reached their fifteenth birthday, and all children attending the Shawnigan Lake Public School.

A meeting of the finance committee will be held, on Tuesday evening, November 13, at 8 o'clock in the S.L.A.A. Hall. The public is invited to attend.

The appointing of committees resulted as follows:

Finance committee—W. E. Fraser, A. Aiken, W. Grey, J. C. Rathbone, Mrs. A. Layton, Mrs. A. Dyson, F. L. Watson and Mrs. E. Gibson.

Supper committee—Mrs. J. Davidson, with power to add.

Police committee—R. Lamb and A. Layton.

Entertainment committee—Mrs. E. Archer, A. H. Pious, A. Aiken, E. Gibson and S. J. Head.

Census committee—Miss Archer and A. H. Pious.

Decorating committee—A. Layton (convenor), with the public invited to help.

Purchasing committee—Mrs. R. Lamb (convenor).

Tree committee—A. Dyson, with power to add.

Santa Claus committee—H. E. Hawking.

What Today Means

"LIBRA" If October 18 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 3 to 5 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 to 9 a.m., from 1 to 3 p.m., and from 6 to 8 p.m.

On this October 18 it will prove wisdom to avoid expressing any opinion that might be construed as radical. Influences conducive to the creating of quarrelsomeness or belligerent dispositions should be guarded against. Intuition may save you from making a mistake that might prove costly, so it may pay you to be guided in your actions by the sense that instinctively tells you what is the right course to pursue. There are excellent possibilities prevailing for money-making opportunities being presented. Letters require care to be exercised in their reading, as ambiguous expressions may cause a misconception being placed on the contents hastily read. Social activities should be so arranged that they will start and end at a reasonable hour, as those engaged in business may recent being kept from receiving a reasonable amount of rest. Married and engaged couples, as well as those desiring to become affianced, may have a more harmonious day if they will avoid trying to be dictatorial when expressing a desire that something be done, or a wish to do some particular thing.

If a woman and October 18 is your natal day, you are very disengaged as to your friends, environment, books and wearing apparel. A decidedly artistic disposition makes you acutely sensitive to things lacking a finished touch. You might find it restful to indulge in flowers, as they should have a very soothing influence over you. Interior decorating, florist work, designing, sketching or a musical career all offer opportunities to one of your temperament. Married life should also appeal to you, as you require love to be perfectly contented.

The child born on October 18, when it passes adolescence, will in all probability express a desire to follow a certain profession or a definite line of work. Everything possible should be done to enable it to gratify this desire.

If a man and October 18 is your birthday, you are blessed with a personality that inspires confidence. Mentally and physically alert, as well as advanced in your reasoning, a professional or business career in which brains count will enable you to achieve success. You should find married life not only helpful in a business way, but instrumental for your having a great deal of contentment.

Acre at Airport Leased to Gov't

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17 (CP).—Lease of one acre at the Sea Island airport to the Department of National Defence has been approved by the City Council. A hangar, costing $10,000 to $15,000, will be constructed on the ground for use of No. 11 Squadron, non-permanent air force.

The lease will be for five years, with another five years optional.

FIVE BRICKS OF GOLD IN WEEK

High-Grade Ore Showing in Large Quantity in Twin Lakes Mine

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17 (CP).—A gold brick, valued at $8,700, one of the largest shipped from the mine and the fifth in a week, has been received here from Twin Lakes Mining Co., according to W. A. Woodward, secretary.

Work on the new shaft has been completed and development is under way. High-grade ore is showing up in satisfactory quantity, a sample across four feet of vein assaying 2.84 ounces gold. Diamond drilling ahead of the workings went $9.50 to the ton.

The property is located in the Osoyoos district.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

WHY IS THE LONDON POLICEMAN CALLED "BOBBY"? The New Yorker has his "cop" and the Londoner calls his a "bobby." And the reason why each is so-called is worthy of mention, at least to keep the record complete. In this article, we will deal only with the origin of term "bobby" for the English policeman, leaving for a later session the story of our word "cop."

The London police recruit gets his initial training at Peel House, which has been aptly termed the great bobby factory of London.

Peel House is so-called after Sir Robert Peel, noted English statesman, who in 1829 organized the police force of London on modern lines.

Taking a cue from his first name, Sir Robert's friends affectionately called him "Bobby" for short. And it is after this intimate diminutive that the London police officer was nicknamed.

Hosanna was the cry with which Jesus was greeted at His last entry into Jerusalem.

What Is Colitis?

A Disease of the Nerves

Colitis may be described as a more serious form of nervous indigestion. The patient is usually thin and anaemic, And suffers from indigestion, With constipation and diarrhoea alternating. Fearing indigestion and pains in bowels, He becomes fussy and worried about what he eats.

He is nervous and irritable and sleepless, And takes a gloomy view of life. The treatment called for Is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The digestive and excretory organs have failed For lack of nerve force. The power which runs the machinery of the body.

This treatment puts iron into the blood. Through the circulation of the blood New vigor and energy is carried to every organ of the body.

The natural functions are restored And soon you are feeling fine.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

SAFETY

All-the-year-round transportation is necessary . . . . . Railways alone provide it.

The obligations imposed upon a railway system are great. Primarily, these are providing and maintaining adequate and reliable transportation service throughout the whole year, regardless of climatic conditions or the costs and difficulties involved in meeting those conditions. A railway system which operated only when weather conditions were pleasant, or which did not guarantee the closest possible adherence to standards of safety, or which had no regular schedule of trains would very soon create public indignation.

To ensure that these onerous requirements are provided by the railway companies, and also to avoid undue advantage being taken by the companies whose services are so essential to the public welfare, all railways are subject to strict government regulation and supervision. They are by law required to carry a specified minimum number of crew on each train . . . to be equipped with efficient safety devices . . . to operate according to approved schedules . . . to conform to approved passenger and freight tariffs . . . to be subject to inspection by government officials at all times. In addition the companies themselves impose the most rigorous tests upon their train operators and each piece of rolling stock and each mile of track is subject to constant and careful scrutiny.

This, of course, is only as it should be. Unfortunately, however, it does not apply to all forms of commercial transportation—only to railways, which are placed at a decided disadvantage in having to compete with services operated only when the weather permits, and at times when operating costs are lowest. Further, these unsupervised services can, and do discriminate capriciously regarding the nature of the commodities they carry, and the rates they charge. While the railways of Canada pay approximately ten million dollars of taxes each year these other services are notoriously undertaxed, and, unlike the railways which run over their own properties, they increase the risk and discomforts of our already overcrowded highways.

A little thought will convince anyone that this is unfair to the railways and that—since railways are the only dependable agency for the provision of all-the-year-round transportation service—it is also hostile to the public interest. With winter approaching the importance of all-the-year-round service is easily appreciated.

The Canadian National Railways provides the best in railway service, and at all times and under all circumstances it is your efficient and unfailing servant.

Use the C. N. R. for all transportation purposes.

MANY REPLIES ARE RECEIVED

Revellers Club Contest for New Name Attracts Considerable Interest

Many replies have been received at both The Colonist and The Times offices to the Revellers "Have You a Name?" contest. This public competition, offering a prize of $25 to the person submitting the most suitable name for this young men's service organization, will close at midnight, Sunday October 21.

It is felt that the present name, conveying as it does the idea of "Revelling," has deprived the club of public interest in its activities that it might otherwise have had. With its objects of fellowship, sportsmanship, service to the community, the club endeavors to be an asset to the city and an instrument by which youth may find unselfish and co-operative expression.

It is, therefore, hoped that a suitable name will be forthcoming. A "colored word" or an easily pronounceable three to seven-letter word is looked upon as probably being more acceptable than a too long or cumbersome title. While a coined name may not adequately express the objects of the club, it might by its terseness be readily acceptable to an organization of this nature.

A little boy in an American school refused to sew, thinking it beneath the dignity of a ten-year-old man. "George Washington sewed," said the principal, taking it for granted that a soldier must: "and do you consider yourself better than George Washington?"

"I don't know; time will tell," said the boy seriously.

STARTS ACTION FOR BALANCE OF DONATION

TORONTO, Oct. 17 (CP).—The Toronto Young Men's Christian Association yesterday started suit against the estate of the late Theodore Pringle Loblaw, chain store operator and philanthropist, seeking $8,500 it claims is due it under an agreement the capitalist made to donate $10,000 to Y.M.C.A. campaign funds.

The association claims it has received $1,500 of the $10,000. The case is continuing in Ontario Supreme Court.

REVISION COURT FINISHES WORK

Reductions on Improvements
Allowed From Appeals
Amount to $30,000

The Court of Revision on Assessments completed consideration of all appeals at its final session, yesterday morning. The court will not convene again until called by the city assessor for the purpose of signing the rolls.

George Okell, assessor, stated yesterday that reductions on improvements from the appeals amounted to approximately $30,000, while the reductions allowed on land amounted to about $2,000.

Some fifty appeals were considered, each appeal being made on parcels of land ranging from one to ten in number, and also improved property.

This year it was not necessary for the court to make any special visits to property. This was obviated by personal calls being made by the assessor and his assistant before the court convened.

HOSPITALITY OF CITIZENS LAUDED

Publicity Bureau Obtains Reaction of 4,000 Summer Visitors to Victoria and Island

Victoria and its citizens pleased 80 per cent of this summer's tourists so much that the visitors will return next year, according to the results of a questionnaire sent out recently by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau to some 4,000 persons.

Answers to the questionnaires were varied and interesting. The hospitality of the Vancouver Island people was highly lauded, but the condition of the island roads came in for much criticism. A number of visitors liked the country so well that they purchased real estate here.

"I'm sorry," said the diner, who hoped to get away with it, "but I haven't any money to pay for that meal."

"That's all right," said the cashier, "We'll write your name on the wall, and you can pay the next time you come in."

"Don't do that. Everybody who comes in will see it."

"Oh, no, they won't. Your top coat will be hanging over it."

THE gold or silver miner does much work before his mine is on a paying basis. That's "development work." He carries on in the hope that soon he will come to the pay-streak and will have his reward.

Compare this miner to your reading of the advertisements. Not everything you read is of vital interest to you at the moment. But many thousands of others are reading. One finds a well-recommended suit or overcoat at an attractive price. That's a pay-streak for him. Another rejoices to find a sales announcement of coal, or coke, or furniture. Another wants the latest automobile or radio, and is mightily pleased to find the advertisement that

ORILLIA TERRIERS WIN FIRST LACROSSE TILT

Mann Cup Champions Nose Out St. Helen's 14-13, in Fast Game

Eastern Squad Comes From Behind to Defeat Vancouver Aggregation of Stickhandlers—Losers Led by 9-6 Score at Half-Time

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17 (CP).—Orillia Terriers, Dominion box lacrosse champions, and Mann Cup holders, defeated St. Helen's, of Vancouver, 14-13, in a nip-and-tuck struggle, here tonight, the first of a five-game exhibition series.

Bill Wilkes opened the scoring in the first two minutes to give Orillia a short-lived lead. Johnny Dale found Terriers' goal for two counters, and Hattie Stoddard added a third before Ed Downey netted for the visitors. Tommy Scott slapped home a third Orillia counter, but Angie McDonald whipped one past Pete Anthony in Terriers' goal to put St. Helen's ahead.

Downey knotted the count again to open the second quarter and from then until near the end of the quarter the score saw-sawed back and forth with Truck McDonald scoring twice, while Butch Boettger and Wilkes sandwiched in counters for Terriers. Dale, Bill Curran and Angie McDonald gave St. Helen's a 9-6 lead at half-time on individual efforts.

Terriers completely dominated the play in the third quarter with Bill Wilkes, Downey and Jim Curran each scoring, while St. Helen's were held scoreless and the visitors went into the fourth with a one-goal advantage.

STODDARD TIES SCORE

Stoddard tied the score again in the first two minutes of the final quarter, then sent the hotel men into the lead three minutes later. Bill Morrill put St. Helen's two up before Orillia found their scoring range again. Bill Mullins cut down the visitors' deficit a minute later and Wilkes tied the score on a pass from Wilkes. The international home another counter before Wilkes took another pass from Wilkes for what proved the winning goal of the game.

Dale drove the ball past Pete Anthony for the final score just before the whistle.

SUMMARIES

First Quarter—1, Orillia, Wilkes, 1-25; 2, St. Helen's, Dale (A. McDonald).

Torchy Peden and Polly Parrott to Ride at Toronto

TORONTO, Oct. 17 (CP).—When the three-man team start the six-day bike grind, Sunday night, Torchy Peden, of Victoria, will head a team composed of Sydney Cozens, Englishman, and Polly Parrott, of Victoria. They will be the British Empire team. Peden was partnered with Jules Audy, of Montreal, when he won the last six-day bike race, here and he is in perfect condition for the race. The all-German combination will include Gustav Killian, of Luxembourg; Heinz Vogel, of Dortmund; and Werner Melpe, of Berlin. Other entries include the three Hollanders, Piet Van Kempen, Ernst Mulder and Joseph Clijnet.

Carmichael Cup Fixture Slated

Fair sex maelstrom welders of the Victoria Golf Club will journey to the Royal Colwood links, tomorrow afternoon, to play in the second half of the Carmichael Cup competition. In the first half of the inter-club match played at Oak Bay some time ago, the home team scored a two-point margin of victory, but the Colwood players will be out to avenge this defeat tomorrow. Play will commence at 1 o'clock.

Golf Tourney Billed

The annual father and son competition for the Mayhew Cup will be held on the beautiful Royal Colwood Golf Links, Saturday afternoon. Players may arrange their own starting times and partners.

LYNN PATRICK SHOWS SPEED

Local Boy Makes Good in Hockey Workout at Winnipeg—Scores Twice

LYNN PATRICK

WINNIPEG, Oct. 17 (CP).—Budding hopefuls attending Lester Patrick's finishing school here wrote their first lesson in competitive hockey tonight. Divided into two squads for elemental purposes, Canada All-Stars defeated Saskatchewan, 7 to 3, in the first of a two-game series. The second game will be played Friday night.

Under the watchful eyes of the old maestro, the students gave a pleasing performance. All-Stars went into a 3-0 lead in the first period, and extended it to 6-1 in the second. The class from the West Province applied pressure in the third period, but the lead was too much of a handicap for them to overcome.

Gathered from all parts of the Dominion, the youngsters set out early in the game to prove they merited selection from hockey's upper strata. Bert Connolly, speedy Moncton Hawk centre forward, notched the first goal and assisted in two others. Ray Giffie, the Stratford junior flash, and the Colville brothers, from Edmonton, were also outstanding.

CONNOLLY SCORES

Connolly put All-Stars ahead shortly after the face-off, on a solo effort down the left boards. Mac Colville, chunky Edmonton E.A.C. junior, flipped in the second on a pass from Giffie, and Connolly made it three on a pass from Shieki just before the period ended.

Absence of two years from the game appeared not to dull the ability of Lynn Patrick, son of Rangers' boss. Teamed with Connolly, he added to All-Stars' lead within minutes of the face-off, and added another when he beat Andy Young with a cool flip at the goalmouth.

The line-ups: Young, goal; Church, Adolph, defence; Armstrong, Nicholson, Papaik, forwards. Sub: Johnson, Kwasne, Farmer, Hubs and Metz.

All-Stars—Gardiner, goal; Creighton, Pratt, defence; N. Colville, Connolly, Giffie, forwards. Sub: Brown, Joyce, Patrick, Shieki and M. Colville.

Would Place Ban On Barnstorming By Ball Players

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP).—An absolute ban on all barnstorming by major league baseball players was advocated today by President Will Harridge of the American League. President Harridge said action undoubtedly would be taken on the subject at the annual winter meeting. Citing a series of recent mishaps—Jimmy Fox's injury, that may ruin his career; the unpleasantness at Milwaukee when irate fans stormed the box office, demanding their money back because the Dean brothers failed to pitch as many innings as advertised; and the soreness of Paul Dean's arm, that may affect his pitching next year—President Harridge said the only thing to do was to prohibit barnstorming altogether.

LAKE HILL IN EASY VICTORY

Suburban Cagers Defeat Laundry, 42-18—Regents and Maroons Win

Tossing in baskets with little opposition, Lake Hill, senior "B" team, triumphed over a slow and somewhat bewildered New Method squad, 42 to 18, in the main attraction at Victoria High School gymnasium, last night. In a hectic battle, Regents handed 16th Canadian Scottish, intermediate "A" players, a 36-to-16 defeat, and in the opener, Standard Laundry won, 32-18, against the Maroons, in the women's senior "B" division.

From the start, Lake Hill took command of the play, and by half-time the New Method team had garnered only four points, against their opponents' twenty-seven. In the second half the laundrymen showed a little more life and managed to get fourteen additional points, while the suburban lads ran up fifteen more.

NO COMBINATION

In the Regents-Canadian Scottish tussle, both squads fumbled away their time and opportunities. Regents were poor in their combination playing, each player endeavoring to score baskets on his own hook. The young soldiers, however, showed considerable improvement over their first performance last week. At half-time the score stood 12-8 in favor of the Regents, and in the last period the Scottish doubled their score, while the Regents tripled their tally. Fleming, for the Regents, was the scoring ace, gathering twelve points.

The clash of the fair sex quintettes offered little excitement, with the Standard Laundry leading the way over the Maroons. By the end of the first half the laundry led, 27-10, and they merely romped through the final stanza, allowing only eight points to be scored against them. Miss Crawford accounted for eighteen of the laundry team's points.

TEAMS AND SCORES

Fred Harding refereed and the teams follow:

Lake Hill—R. Michell (5), Jones (2), Atkinson (6), Cunningham (8), B. Michell (16), and Bates (5). Total, 42.

NORTH SHORE IN GRID WIN

Defeat University of British Columbia, 10-1, in Big Four Fixture

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17 (CP).—North Shore hung up their first win of the big four Canadian football season when they defeated the Uckless University of British Columbia grid team, 10-1, here tonight.

It was Varsity's second straight loss in big-four competition.

Bert Downie, husky North Shore halfback, opened the scoring in the second quarter with a field goal. Ed Kendall, Varsity halfback, was roused behind his goal line just before the quarter ended.

CLIFF GOES OVER

Ed Cliff crashed over from the three-yard line in the third quarter after North Shore had carried the ball down the field on a series of line smashes to give the North-erners a major score which was not converted.

Fred Bolton was roused early in the fourth quarter for North Shore's last point.

Kendall kicked to the deadline five minutes from the final whistle to give Varsity their lone point.

Soccer Chatter

By A.F.A.N.

West's are fulfilling the promise of their first game. We could tell by their victory in the opener that they would not be long before they were the leaders of the league, and here they are at the top. They deserve the honor, for, irrespective of mid-field play, they are goal-getters, and goals count.

It is no mean task to score five in a row against DeCosta, even though that marvel of marvels is not as well supported as he should be. To beat the Equinault goalie one must be a good shot, or one must rush him off his feet, mustn't one?

Lorandini played a great game, but it might be suggested that he is still too young to know some of the rules. Smart as he was, he and other youngsters of the West had to own that Jimmy Hay could at all times show them a clean pair of heels.

How long, oh, how long must we wait for the Dockers to show us what they are really capable of? Where is Boyd? and where can they find a couple of real outsiders so that Hay can play where he is most valuable, in the halfback line. Another fullback would help a lot, too.

I do not at all intend to rob the West's of any credit for playing a winning game. They have youth and speed, and speed is 70 per cent of modern soccer, the other 30 being brains and leadership. West's are still inclined to feed Scotty Robinson to reptilian.

But there is another team, just as fast and just as young—a team of young fellows who will head the list in a few weeks' time. The City team is not to be denied, and now that they have broken the ice, we may look to better success crowning their efforts.

Peccably enough, I thought the City played their poorest game to date, yet they were value for a one-goal lead over Saanich. They passed up opportunities so often that I feared for the result. Especially in the second half their outside right had three glorious chances, one after another, which he flung away by wild shots from impossible angles.

Stofer was the pick of their men, with his fearless tackling and perfect timing he played at times like a veteran. George Payne fully lived up to the name I gave him of our outstanding outside left, and I cannot imagine him being overlooked for our next inter-city game.

Teller proved a great help to the forward line. He placed several perfect passes, and most of the offensive movements were engineered by this canny player. Why did they pull him off, or was he tired? Gibson was a tower of strength on the halfback line.

When Joe Crowe came on for the Thistles he altered the nature of the game a lot, sending his men off on the attack time and again, whereas they had been playing a defensive game, which was a sad mistake. Except for one error, Rowe played a splendid game, and that goes for Hood, too.

Equimall is the latest team to take a lesson in one of the elements of the game: Play to the whistle. While the players from the Far West were holding a debate with the referee, their opponents from the Near West went ahead and scored another goal. Serve them right, we are inclined to say.

By the way, last Saturday was our first 100 per cent day. The second division, having walked in rain for the end of the Summer weather, decided to make a start.

Another point that needs rubbing in is that spirit of the law is that offenders should not benefit by the breach of the laws of the game. That often explains why the whistle is not blown.

Saturday—Equimall vs. Sidney, Bullen's Park. Kick-off at 2:15 o'clock.

Sunday—Sallapring vs. Otter Point, Sallapring. Kick-off at 3 o'clock.

ENGLISH HERBAL DISPENSARY, LTD. 1350 Davis Street, Vancouver, B.C. Established in Vancouver 13 Years

The Juniors were all at it, and in the morning the juveniles had had their turn.

But it is rather sad how the powers that be rob the Wednesday series every week that contains a public holiday. This really means that Wednesday players get only half a day off in commemoration of royal birthdays, thanksgivings, etc. Soccer and other sports should see that this is put right.

There are still, apparently, millions of fans who do not know that it is not a breach of the law for a player merely to be in an offside position. Directly we see a poor "c" who is day-dreaming at the wrong end of the field, we yell "OFF!" "e" we tell the referee to have his eyes tested, and we invite him to resign then and there.

And all this in spite of the fact that the play is anything from fifty to eighty yards away from the poor fellow who, for the time being, is really one of us, enjoying the game from a spectator's point of view.

He cannot be offside until he walks towards the ball, or towards an opponent, and in doing so affects the play. So that George Payne, in an offside position, may walk up for a friendly chat with Joe Crowe, or he may advance towards the ball to get a closer view of the play; but unless he affects the play, he is not necessarily offside.

Since all fans in Victoria read The Colonist, we do not expect them to fall into this error again. While I would not dare to presume to teach the fans, all of whom know it all and would make excellent referees, for the benefit of new converts to the game, I am proposing to point out some of the errors into which the fans of our city fall at times.

Another point that needs rubbing in is that spirit of the law is that offenders should not benefit by the breach of the laws of the game. That often explains why the whistle is not blown.

British-Designed Passenger Planes Reveal Progress

Twelve Years in Evolution of Air Liner Show Wide Contrast With First Machines to Fly Across Channel

LONDON, Oct. 17.—British progress in the design and construction of passenger air-liners is illustrated, strikingly, by a comparison which is now possible between the latest craft of the "Diana" type and a machine such as the D.H. 18, one of the first aircraft to be built for regular air transport on the routes between London and the Continent.

Machines of the "Diana" type are to be used by Qantas Empire Airways, an associate company of Imperial Airways, on the new Malaya-Australia extension of the Eastern Empire route, which is to be inaugurated in December.

NOT VERY FAST
The D.H. 18, which was put into service between London and Paris in 1922, was driven by a single 450 h.p. engine and carried a payload of 1,100 pounds at a maximum speed of 115 miles an hour and at a cruising speed of ninety-five miles an hour.

In contrast to this, the modern

NORTH ROUTE IS FEASIBLE

Winnipeg Flyers Confident Regular Flying Schedules Can Be Maintained

WINNIPEG, Oct. 17 (CP).—Winnipeg to London by air in less than forty-eight hours and on a regular schedule is the plan of a group of local flyers, made public here today.

Roy Brown, Ted Stull, Milton Ashton and Jack Moar, four men prominent in flying in Northern Canada, who combine more than 25,000 hours of flying experience, are convinced of the feasibility of such a project and see in the "northern route" the base of a daily service with the Old Country.

The route they have studied lies on almost a direct west-to-east line from Winnipeg to the Faroe Islands and then south to the northernmost tip of Scotland. It crosses Hudson Bay, Baffin Land, Greenland and Iceland. They claim the total distance would be 3,790 miles, the longest water jump of which would be 485 miles.

CLOSELY STUDIED
"This proposed service would not be a hit-and-miss affair," declared Mr. Moar. Air conditions, communication bases and type of equipment had all been closely studied, he continued, and he was convinced there would be a regular service within two years.

Mr. Moar declared that there would be no lack of financial support, and said there were many pilots with many years' flying experience in Northern Canada who would be primarily fitted for such service.

WILL PROBABLY LOSE PRESTIGE

Chairman Suggests Winding Up Affairs of Royal Mail Steam Packet Co.

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP).—Sir Arthur Maxwell, presiding at the annual meeting of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, today suggested it may be necessary to wind up the affairs of the company.

Sir Arthur explained the deficiency account for 1933 showed ascertainable losses of about £9,000,000, which increased in last year's accounts by £2,300,000.

In Belfast, where the line's steamers are built, it was felt the statement may have been made with a view to enlisting Government support. It was felt that should the threat be carried out, British preference in South America would suffer.

Salmon Pack for Coast of B.C. Is Well Above 1933

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17 (CP).—The salmon season in Northern British Columbia is practically ended, with only a few packing plants still operating. Interest now centres on the Fraser River, where the largest pack in five seasons is being rapidly increased.

The Fraser River pack during the past week was 88,143 cases, bringing the total for the season to date to 307,752 cases, compared with 263,472 cases last year, and 222,994 cases in the cycle year of 1930.

The total provincial pack is 1,329,651 cases this year, compared with 1,147,079 cases in the same period last year, and 1,990,509 cases in 1930.

Salvage Tug Fleeing From Cyclonic Gale

HONGKONG, Oct. 17 (AP).—Grave fears were expressed today for the safety of six Europeans and ninety Chinese aboard the Tai-Koo Dock & Engineering Company's salvage tug Tai-Koo, apparently fleeing southward before a cyclonic gale.

The tug was inspecting the City of Cambridge at Pratas Reef when the typhoon approached and overtook her. The craft wireless for help and H.M.S. Adventure was dispatched from Hongkong. Other rescue ships were unable to overtake her.

Survives as Private Yacht COAST LINER DUE TONIGHT

New York was recently visited by a square-rigged sailing vessel, the Hussar IV, world's largest sailing vessel, from Europe flying the flag of her new owner, Edward F. Hutton, who will use her as a private yacht. Mr. Hutton's wife inherited the millions of C. W. Post, breakfast food manufacturer.

At the Theatres

THREE STARS IN PLAYHOUSE FILM

Irene Dunne, Ralph Bellamy and Constance Cummings in "This Man Is Mine"

Three celebrities of the screen world—Irene Dunne, Ralph Bellamy and Constance Cummings—completely abandon the rules of etiquette to provide brilliant comedy-drama in Miss Dunne's new starring picture, "This Man Is Mine," which will open, today, at the Playhouse Theatre.

In a marital triangle story which reveals the fact that socialites are much like their proletarian brothers and sisters when it comes to domestic strife, Bellamy is lured from his screen mate, Miss Dunne, by an habitual home-wrecker, played by Miss Cummings. When he loses the alien to another man he goes home to repent on Miss Dunne's shoulder, but finds, much to his surprise, that the hand of welcome is a hand of iron.

"This Man Is Mine" is what may truly be termed a comedy of manners which goes from the ridiculous

AMUSEMENTS

ON THE STAGE

Empire—Homer's Indoor Circus.

ON THE SCREEN

Capitol—Claudette Colbert in "Cleopatra."

Columbia—"Come On, Marines," starring Richard Arlen.

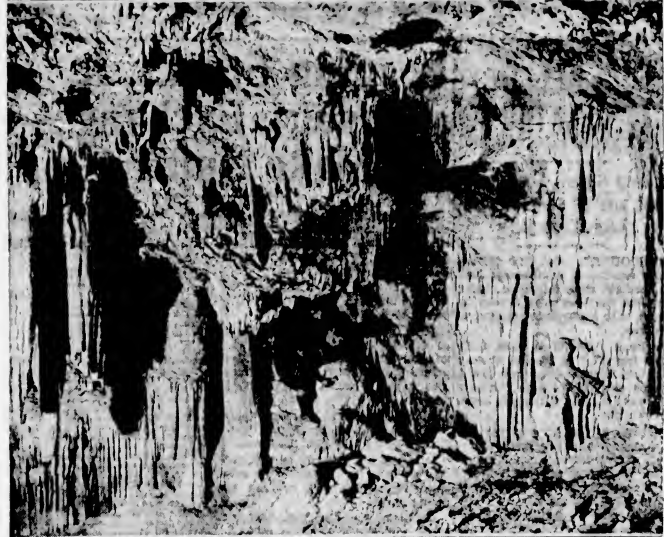

Dominion—Loretta Young in "Caravan."

Playhouse—"This Man Is Mine," featuring Irene Dunne.

to the sublime and from subtle satire to broad comedy. Excellent light entertainment is provided in "Waltz Time," the added attraction, a screen adaptation of Johann Strauss' famous "Die Fledermaus," an operetta which was very successful years ago all over the world. Evelyn Laye is the star of the Gaumont-British production, and is supported by a capable cast of vocalists, including Perry Jones, George Baker and Frank Titterton.

Saint Lawrence was one of the most celebrated martyrs of the early Church.

Chain of Caves in California

Giant underground caverns found in Death Valley, Cal., are part of a vast cave system that extends for 300 miles from the southern tip of Nevada through Southeastern California to Mexico, and through which flows a mighty subterranean river. This was the belief expressed in Los Angeles recently by A. W. Plummer, Hollywood, Cal., photographer and desert explorer who, for the first time, exhibited pictures he has taken of some of the caves. This photo shows one of the caves in which hang glistening stalactites of fascinating beauty.

INDOOR CIRCUS IS ON EMPIRE STAGE

Many Excellently Trained Animals Performing in Current Vaudeville Bill

Sid Grauman, of the famous Chinese Theatre in Hollywood, recently praised "Homer's Indoor Circus," which will open its Victoria engagement at the Empire Theatre, today, and show again tomorrow and on Saturday.

Mr. Grauman's letter to Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Homer was as follows: "Permit me to congratulate you on the very unique act of your wonder horse, 'Headlight'."

"I am happy to state that this performance was more than satisfactory from an audience standpoint, and very satisfactory to me as well. It will give me much pleasure at some future date if you are in this vicinity to play your act again, and in the meantime accept my very best wishes for a much-deserved success."

Trained Persian cats, a clever mule and several extremely smart horses will be presented in Victoria on this programme.

Capitol Cecil B. DeMille's "Cleopatra" will be seen at the Capitol Theatre for the last time today and tomorrow. Beautiful Claudette Colbert is seen in the role of Cleopatra, while Warren William plays the part of Caesar. Henry Wilcoxon, a newcomer to the screen, is excellent as Mark Anthony.

Action Film Is Columbia Story

Henry Hathaway, who has had long experience as an assistant director at the Paramount studios, took charge of his first major production for Paramount when he directed "Come On, Marines!" which comes today to the Columbia Theatre. Richard Arlen, Ida Lupino and Roscoe Karns are featured, with Grace Bradley and Monte Blue in the supporting cast.

Until recently Hathaway's work as a director had been confined to the production of Paramount's Zane Grey classics, the latest of which include "The Last Round-Up." His experience in that field marked him as the most important of Hollywood's outdoor romance directors.

"Come On, Marines!" is a lusty, high-spirited comedy of the adventures of soft-hearted leathernecks with South American bandits and members of the fair sex.

John Wayne is seen in "Blue Steel," the fast-moving Western drama, which is the added attraction.

'LAST GENTLEMAN' TO BE HERE SATURDAY

Some folks surmise it is an affliction and some think it is required because of a defect of vision, but nearly everyone is interested in that famous George Arliss monologue. Both guesses are partially correct. For while the monologue was adopted in Arliss' early youth, purely as an affectation because his father wore one before him, it has become a necessity through long years of wearing, and now he really cannot see clearly without it.

It has worn two deep grooves in his face—one above and one below his right eye. He hasn't broken a monologue in twenty-five years, yet he always carries a spare. He doesn't wear it while reading or in the title role of "The Last Gentleman," his new twentieth century comedy which United Artists brings to the Capitol Theatre on Saturday.

INCREASE INSURANCE ON NEW INSTITUTION

Sanich School Board is not taking any chance of a loss in the event that the unfinished McKenzie Avenue School meets the same fate as the old structure, which was burned. Although the school is not yet finished, it carries $7,500 in insurance. In the event of fire, the board would be faced with a severe loss, something over $1,000.

The board last night decided to increase the insurance to $10,000.

'SERVANTS' ENTRANCE' HAS SPLENDID CAST

One of the strongest casts assembled for any picture on this year's Fox Film programme is now to be seen in "Servants' Entrance," the Janet Gaynor-Lew Ayres starring production at the Dominion Theatre, tomorrow.

The cast also includes Walter Connolly, Ned Sparks, Louise Dresser and Siegfried Rumann, the Broadway character actor who won fame in "Grand Hotel," and recently was seen in his first film part in "The World Moves On."

Asriel Allen, G. P. Huntley, Jr., John Qualen, Catherine Doucet, and many other important players also are in the cast.

Frank Lloyd, winner of the academy award for his direction of "Cavalcade," directed "Servants' Entrance" and Winfield Sheehan, vice-president and general manager of production, personally supervised.

POINT WILL BE SET ASIDE AS PLAYGROUND

Although no definite action has yet been taken, reassurance was given yesterday that Saxe Point will be set aside by Esquimalt council as a municipal park.

At Tuesday night's council session, it was decided to hold the matter up for two weeks, in order that extension of Armit Street could be considered by the reeve.

REPORT ON RAIL
SAVING IN ERROR

C.N.R. Trustees Head Says Amalgamation of Lines Would Save $15,000,000

HALIFAX, Oct. 17 (CP).—Hon. C. Fullerton, K.C., chairman of the board of trustees of the Canadian National Railways, said here yesterday that officers of the railway had informed him that not more than $15,000,000 could be saved yearly through amalgamation with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Reports of his speech at a private luncheon quoted the chairman last night and today as saying he had been told $50,000,000 might be saved by amalgamation—$25,000,000 less than the estimate of E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway. This brought vigorous protest from Mr. Fullerton.

Even a saving of $15,000,000, Mr. Fullerton said, would be contingent upon "a docile public, who would submit to a wholesale abandonment of lines now serving territories upon which industries and settlements have been established for many years."

"A man doesn't like raking up the past," declares an essayist. That's the attitude our jobbing gardener takes with regard to the Autumn leaves.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

GOLF COURSE IS DISCUSSED

Ratepayers Want Esquimalt Council to Administer Reverted Fairways

The Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association, last night, decided to attend in a body tonight's meeting of the Esquimalt Council, specially called to consider the question of leasing property which reverted to the municipality, and upon which is located the course of the Macaulay Point Golf Club.

It was first ascertained by the association that the council meeting tonight, while being a public one, is not of the type in which the general public will participate in the discussion.

Having acquainted themselves of this fact, the association then decided to ask the council that spokesmen of the association be given a hearing so that they could present the arguments of the organization, which favors the municipality operating the golf course in conjunction with a committee of the Macaulay Point Golf Club members.

ENDORSES ACTION

The association also endorsed the action of its special committee, which outlined a scheme to the council in a letter with respect to municipal operation of the golf course.

The suggestion is that a committee, the membership of which would comprise one-half golf club members and one-half municipal representatives, with a chairman appointed by the council, administer the course so that the municipality can derive revenue from it, thus securing the tax arrears, and solving the problem of how to pay for the sewerage system installed on the course.

Will Exchange State for City Land Parcels

Judging from a communication received by a local real estate firm, property values have depreciated to such an extent in California that the writer is prepared to trade the whole state for several parcels of Victoria land. The writer, however, did not mention whether he was in a position to make the offer on behalf of the population of California.

However, he is interested in buying property here, as also is another Californian, who is not quite so critical as the other. The second inquirer was only willing to trade Southern California for parcels of Victoria property. This writer, however, was a San Franciscoan, which may explain his willingness to trade off Southern California for Victoria property.

MAY HAVE CLAIM TO BIG FORTUNE

Vancouver Man May Be Entitled to Huge Estate—Written to Solicitors in Scotland

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17 (CP).—John Mercer, a member of Vancouver's army of unemployed, today started an investigation into the possibility he may have a claim to a fortune now amounting to $2,000,000, left by Andrew Mercer, who died in Canada in 1871.

Heirs to the unclaimed fortune have been sought for twenty years by a firm of solicitors in Edinburgh, Scotland. Mr. Mercer wrote today to this firm to seek information of the estate and to request investigation of his possible claim.

He declares he often heard his mother say that there was "money in the Mercer family away back."

Big Schemes Are Under Way in Work Programme

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nunn, both graduates of Cornell University, are spending their honeymoon in Victoria and are guests at the Empress Hotel. They are from Bonneville, Oregon.

Mr. Nunn is an engineer engaged on the $31,000,000 dam project under the public works administration of the N.E.A. The work is being done about forty miles from Portland on the Columbia River Highway and is a relief project.

Men employed are paid at the rate of fifty cents an hour for a six-day week, one dollar per day being deducted for board.

At the conclusion of his honeymoon trip, Mr. Nunn will go to the Grand Coulee project, about 100 miles from Spokane, where a $61,000,000 reclamation scheme is under way.

PEACE RESTORED IN RACIAL CONTROVERSY
CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 17 (CP).—Peace is restored between Mr. Justice Makina of the Supreme Court of Ontario and the French-Canadian population of this community. Some days ago, His Lordship, irked at the spectacle of a French-Canadian who was unable to give his evidence in English, unloosed comments which were regarded as highly offensive by the French-Canadian community. In a letter, received today by the secretary of the St. Jean Baptiste Society, His Lordship clarified the situation to the satisfaction of all concerned. "Come back for something you have forgotten, as usual," sneered the husband. "No," replied the wife, sweetly, "I have come back for something I've remembered."

Virginia Vane Says:

SEPARATION FROM MARRIED BOSS SHOULD SHOW TRUE STATUS OF FEELING FOR HIM

My Dear Miss Vane: The man I work for is in love with me, and unfortunately I reciprocate his feeling. He is a married man ten years older than myself, and I feel that he is the only man I will ever love.

I fought against loving this man for three years, and then, six months ago, I found that I could no longer resist the attraction I felt toward him. He has not been underhand about this affair, but has told his wife the whole story. At first she was frantic, but now she is willing to get a divorce if he will assure her of alimony sufficient to care for her and her one child. The alimony she asks will leave us in very poor circumstances.

I feel that his wife has never really loved this man, but that she has been interested solely in his fine position and the money it brought her. It will be necessary for me to continue my work if we do marry, and I know that a divorce is going to mean loss of prestige to this man at his place of business.

Do you think I should permit him to make this sacrifice for me, or shall I get a job somewhere else and try to forget him?—Home Wrecker.

It is too bad that you couldn't have thought of changing your job two or three years ago. You must have known what was going to happen if you stayed on, and it can have been only weakness on your part to remain working with this man whom, even then, you thought attractive. I am sure that your employer would have welcomed the opportunity to escape temptation by getting you another position.

There is just a possibility that a change of job could, even yet, adjust this situation for you. Why don't you try it? You see the relationship between two people in business is very different from the marriage relationship. A girl working with a man must of necessity see eye to eye on a great many things, and an understanding springs up between them that is practically impossible for the housewife to achieve.

The minute the relationship changes, so that the co-worker becomes the housewife, then the understanding is not quite so close, and oftentimes the harmony in a business relationship is found to be nothing more than that, and is far from the genuine love necessary in marriage.

The cases are few where understanding in business survives the acid test of matrimony. Perhaps yours is one of these. You must be sure before you undertake the responsibility of disrupting this man's present marriage.

It is going to take a lot of sane, honest thought to find out exactly what prompts your present attraction for this man, and I am sure it would be best if you sought another job and kept away for several months, so that you could reach an intelligent, fair decision, without the handicap of seeing your friend constantly. Talk it over with him along the line I have suggested, and I am sure that he will agree this is the only fair thing to do. I do believe, however, that the damage has been done, and that even after the separation you will find yourself still in love, and of course, if that turns out to be so, it is much better that you go through with the whole business than to give him up because you think you are going to ruin his wife's happiness. Even if you did decide that you were wrecking a happy home and go off somewhere to forget about him, you would still exist between these two, and their home life could never be completely happy and smooth. The only hope, then, is for the separation to convince you that your love is not as important as you now think it, and that your sense of values has been warped through constant association with this man.

BRUISED VANITY

Disappointed: You certainly take yourself pretty seriously at sixteen, don't you? No love at this age should have the importance you are giving to this one. Your vanity is getting a severe jolt right now, but I don't believe your heart has even been affected by this man's indifference. I know what I am talking about, for hundreds of my readers have written of similar problems, and in the end they all find out that the only thing causing their disappointment was a bruised vanity and nothing to do with their real affections. For your own good self-respect and future self-confidence with men, you must get over this heart-throb right away. Certainly you must not continue to batter yourself against the stone wall of this man's indifference. By taking this affair so seriously, you are in a fair way to losing your self-confidence with other men, thinking that if you failed this time you might fail again. You seem well supplied with boy friends, and as you are not quite old enough to think seriously of marriage, don't concentrate on any one boy in particular. Enjoy a lot of boy friends, and soon you will have acquired a knowledge and experience of them that will make such a conquest as the one that now seems so important the simplest thing you have to do.

COMBATING THE OTHER WOMAN

Unhappy: It would be well if you could physically intimidate this little rat who has taken advantage of your hospitality to win your husband. However, even if you succeeded in scratching this woman's face and scared her off by threats of other physical violence, the real problem would remain unsolved. Right now you are having a hard time convincing yourself that you were ever attractive, or that you now have the slightest chance of holding your husband. You see, if you really thought you were smarter than this other woman, you would not have the desperate feeling, but would accept it as a challenge and go out and win back this husband of yours. You have every advantage you know, for your long years of marriage must have given you an insight to your man's character that, if properly used, could defeat the wiles of any designing woman.

It is very important that you keep up your courage. Hold your chin up and don't let yourself for a moment brood over the affair. It can be nothing more than a passing fancy at worst, and you may be sure your husband will come flying back to you as soon as he realizes how little this woman holds for him. You have your boy, and he should supply you with enough interests to keep your mind off your husband's unfaithfulness.

Plan your life so that when he does decide to come back he will find you a much more self-contained person, one that he cannot take for granted any longer, and of necessity a much more attractive one. I am sure that the minute you start occupying yourself in this manner you will find the hope and courage you need to give this woman a good stiff fight for your husband, if by that time there is any need of doing so.

McGill Students Open Date Bureau

MONTREAL, Oct. 17 (CP).—For McGill University students who prefer to mingle a bit of moonlight or a few bars of a dance band with their studies, a "date bureau" has been set up by McGill Daily, under-graduate newspaper. Lonely souls of both sexes, finding no better way to spend their evening than poring over their unromantic textbooks, may register with the bureau and then wait hopefully for telephone calls. Just how university authorities or a few bars of a dance band with their studies, a "date bureau" has
